Gmail requires a phone number to sign up for an account now? Have I always been oblivious or is this a recent change?

Nah. you don't need a phone number to sign up for an Gmail account. I just registered a couple yesterday without phone number so.

Anyway, thanks to AlphaTurtle for sharing this.

I don't know what OP's method is, but if it's anything like what I do, you never have to enter a phone number for confirmation
