Users are not allowed to ask for a vouch copy of any product unless the thread specifies that there are vouch copies available, and you meet their stipulations.

Well... actually I wasn't really interested in giving vouch copy's away, but you made me change my mind. I have sent you a pm regarding a copy of Doxinator.

I have 2 vouch copy's left for (HQ) L33t and Ub3rs.

Content (9/10): The contents of this e-book covers many topics and ways to DOX someone. This is really great for beginners and cover most of the information you need to do some basic research and DOX'ing of someone. It has several methods and they are all explained in detail.

Organization (10/10): This book contains a Table of Contents, a Purpose, and gets you right into the methods.

Grammar (9.5/10): I do not see any grammar errors, skimmed through it and articulates his message pretty clearly and concise.

Price (9/10): Could be a little cheaper, but still pretty cheap for a pretty nice start-up e-book on DOX'ing.

Overall (9.5/10): Pretty nice e-book for beginners only and explains the steps for several methods clearly without any problems.

I received a vouch copy from OP, great e-book!

Purchased ebook a few days ago and just got around to reading and using it.

First off, the ebooks format was wonderfully organized and structured for simplicity and is setup really well. The methods for finding the information on the advert are explained perhaps a bit too thoroughly and he provides several methods in case one doesn't work or doesn't returns any results. Some of the methods I haven't seen ever used before or in any other ebook. Definitely worth the $10 price tag. Made back what I paid for the ebook just today thanks to what I've learned from it.
