You should provide proof that it is his Skype. Don't forget, add this to deal disputes.

Major League - May 11, 2017, 4:50 pm

Here's the same user asking me for rep earlier today

Also, he's totally taking this conversation out of context.

ALSO PLEASE PROVIDE ME PROOF YOU SENT ANYTHING TO MY ADDRESS which you can clearly see in your post in the skype messages. That wallet hasn't ever received any coin.

Skype proof can't be valid proof for asking for rep and this doesn't really add anything to the DD.

Also if you were doing a deal, +rep is a natural thing to do in my opinion.

It can't be used to prove one violation of policy, but it can another? I'm confused.

Unless you expect others to neg him for doing a deal from what it seems and asking for rep afterwards, because it was a DEAL, go ahead. I mainly was referring to that one cannot get RKO'd with that proof and it's useless in this defense.

Edit* Seems to be a false accusation, but you didn't state that when you posted first. Don't take what I said wrongly.

And how does this change the deal dispute? Honestly you're just trying to subtly blackmail another member by going "You fucked up too" to try and cover your own ass and you know it. ?

Because you gave me the address of the wallet you sent it to.

check the timestamps in ur chat log lol i provided it after u said that so why are u "still waiting for confirmation" when u clearly did not receive anything from me, that indicates you received my money but just waiting for it to be confirmed, i mean how else are u going to argue this lol

I have trusted Biggy with hundreds of dollars and have never had a problem with him, nor with him sending payments, double spending, scamming, etc. Buggy and I have been working in various projects together for months now and he has my full vouch as a HQ trustworthy member.

Hope this is a false accusation

well i dont think its an accusation anymore

"Waiting on confirm" means clearly he saw the transaction and waiting for a confirmation before delivering the product, otherwise he will tell me "I dont see ur btc coming in"

well looks like he got banned
