Thread: How to copy types from a dll to an exe mono.cecil

DelusionalGhost - May 15, 2017, 5:44 pm

Wierd complicated question right? well, it should be normal in my case.. SO im making a DLL Embedder and when i make the types, it doesnt actually save the code inside the types, only the namespace, name, and attributes from the type, how the fuck do i fix this?

At first stop using Mono.Cecil and use dnlib. (more tutorials + much better)

Meh, I know mono.cecil more than dnlib and have successfully made several obfuscators. There's not terribly much different between them.

OP: go download all Confuser versions and study the sources for at minimum 6 months.
