Thread: Yu-Gi-Oh! | Magic | Pokemon | Custom Trading Cards! | 0/3 Vouch Copies

Evanescence - May 16, 2017, 3:47 am

I've started making custom trading cards and thought you guys might want some. So far I've only done YuGiOh, because that's the only trading card game I play, but the process is the exact same for other types of cards.

You can either design the card yourself and send it to me to be made into a real card or I can design it for you and show you the design to make sure you like it before I make it. Here are a few examples of cards I've made.

Here are 3 cards I made (Click to View)

Here are a couple gifs showing the different holographic effects I can do at the moment

This is the super/ultra rare styled holo

This is the secret rare styled holo

Pricing at the moment will vary case-by-case, but I do know this much:

Non-holo is cheapest

Super/Ultra rare holo is mid range

Secret rare holo is the most expensive

Here is a DropBox folder of finished designs to see what's already available and some resources to design your own to send to me!

These are not official cards and I'm not going to make any that are trying to look like the official cards.

I am now offering 3 vouch copies to members I deem "worthy":

These cards look great.

How long do these take you to make?

It takes about 30 minutes to an hour to make each one. If I'm designing it in photoshop from scratch and it's not the original style that I can use one of my templates for then it'll take longer, like the Blue-Eyes White Dragon card I showed in the example pictures tooks probably 2-2.5 hours. It won't take as long now though, because that Blue-Eyes was the first card that I ever made.

I love the fact you're doing the holo's.

Good luck with selling. Consider looking for a few YuGiOh forums as well.

Thanks! I'm going to be trying out a new technique soon so I can make some parts of the card holo and other parts non-holo, so it's more like real cards that only the picture is holo. I could even choose which parts of the picture would be holo. ?

Is there any money in trading cards anymore?

I have a buddy who plays the game on his phone, doesn't own a single card.
If there is, good luck.

From what I can tell since I got back into YuGiOh it might be mostly collectors and not many players nowadays. I play it with my brothers and sister. I also found out yesterday that a guy I work with plays too. ?

This actually looks pretty cool.

Might hit you up for some MTG cards to rebuild my deck.

MrCortex - May 16, 2017, 3:46 pm

Is it possible for a custom design ?, I have so many designs but don't have the tools to make them xD

Yea dude I made a couple grand selling my old pokemon and yu gi oh cards from like 15 years ago to a card shop in my town.

These look really good OP, good luck with sales.

I haven't yet, but Armada said he might want some MTG cards, so that will give me some experience with it. He doesn't want holos, so I'll be starting out with the easy stuff on MTG ?

Prob missed the chat earlier in skype, but yea, I am looking for some OG Alpha/Beta and old set cards to rebuild my deck just for playing.

Only issue we seem to hit when it comes to the printing he can not reproduce the honeycomb type print they used for MTG.

I could probably get the honeycomb stuff if I just print your MTG cards at Kinkos or something. Those honeycomb things are probably like 1/10-1/15th of a millimeter in diameter, so you probably need a printer worth a few thousand dollars ?

What is the format and size you want?, have you a favor program to work with. ?

Xelass - May 17, 2017, 6:40 am

Huge vouch for Evanescence.. Really nice person and legit af :)

Size depends on what kind of card it is. Yu-Gi-Oh is 86mmx59mm, MTG is 88mmx63mm, and Pokemon is the same dimensions as MTG cards. If I order another material that I'm planning on getting soon I can do any size you'd like though. ?

EDIT: As long as they're in that size ratio it still works though, higher resolution picture in the same ratio will print a better card, so just make your designs big, but in the correct ratio for best results.

Evanescence - May 18, 2017, 9:04 pm

I've added 3 vouch copies to this product! If you would like a vouch copy just let me know and if you're "worthy" I'll get started making your card! ?

shreder - May 19, 2017, 12:22 am

Can you make a good replica?

What do you mean by replica? Like a proxy?

Evanescence - May 20, 2017, 2:37 am

I've been testing some different things and now I can make custom backings to the cards too!

Here is an example: \(Click to View\)

Evanescence - May 22, 2017, 9:04 pm

I'm now making the non-holos and backings with glossy photo paper, instead of cardstock, so they are now a lot more realistic and a lot higher quality! ?

Evanescence - June 1, 2017, 4:54 pm

I can also do big cards, like the big promo cards that come with some Pokemon packs, but I can do it for any card. ?
