Greetings,

Do HF has a ruby on rails section? I am searching but i dont find any. If no, why dont admins make one? Its amazing what can you do on rails and how fast in addition with other coding languages...

It could be great if Ruby/Rails had it self section , so they organized and ease to ask. not like find needle on haystack.

True.. most topics regarding ruby end up in the sections mentioned above.

But yh, if it was approved that would be good for HF

As much as I would love the idea (not to mention Ruby being used for Metasploit, thus rendering it on topic with the 'hacking' scene,) I don't think it'll ever be added since there honestly isnt any actual activity regarding the language here :(

I personally think separating ruby should be done. Python an Ruby are both popular languages, and as Faith stated many environments run Ruby.
