So, I found my adult blog. Basically its a naked Asian blog.

What I was thinking in May 2010.. Tho some posts go back to 2009, is beyond me.

Here are some stats:

Is their a way to monitize this blog? Or since it has adult content, I cannot do anything with it?

If not, if you have traffic, I'm sure small adult sites would be interested in advertisements or something along those lines. Think outside the box :)

edit: not that box, get your head outta the gutter

Would one do that by presenting a professionally email or some sort to them, or how does one go about that?
