Mine would be Attack On Titan.

AoT is definitely one of my favorites. But I think Gate takes the lead over AoT by a small margin. Can't beat how everything connects together...It's not every day that you see modern day forces fighting against fantasy/medieval soldiers.

+Cloud - May 18, 2017, 5:13 pm

lol i was talking to my black friends black friend and saw attack on titan on his phone so i brought it up. was pretty funny.

Definitely Danganronpa. It's so intriguing and overall a well thought out anime. A lot of unexpected events omf... ?

CAFEEEFAC - May 21, 2017, 5:20 am

Gintama, no doubt about it. The comedy in the anime is top-notch and has made me laugh out loud many times, something that animes rarely get me to do. And when there is an action arc (a serious arc), it's one of the most badass things I've ever seen. It's a 10/10 on both the comedy and action parts.

It's quite a long anime, with several hundred episodes. Check it out if you haven't already. :)

Xerexrome - May 21, 2017, 5:48 am there are so many anime that i like but i cant really decide a best out of it...but here's a list of animes that i really liked...

bungou stray dogs
god eater
servamp
seraph of the end
prison school
seven deadly sins
kerneval
konosuba
taboo taboo
Charlotte
log horizon

there are more too but i get the feeling that i have already said too much..

and also some of these may have one season but they are good so i mentioned it actually i think all of them have like 1 or 2 seasons...
