Kicking's Profile - <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=1755309>

So here's what happened.

Around three months ago me and the user Tom Cruise purchased ownership of Venom Logger from Kicking, the sales thread can be seen here:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5555794>

When we bought it he was very helpful with showing us how everything worked and making sure that we had everything properly set up. Since then I have had no involvement with him at all, until I got the following messages from a developer I know.

As we can see its pretty obvious he was trying to get Venom Logger, the logger of which he sold the source code and complete ownership of to me and Tom Cruise re-themed. A.K.A He was trying to scam us by reselling a source code which we now own. We also know that this is his discord because it is the same one listed on his current eCrypter thread found here -

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5616950>

And last but not least, when confronted with the fact that we were going to be notified of what he was trying to do he started panic deleting his messages.

All in all it makes me a bit sad this had to happen, Kicking was a good guy when I first talked to him but the fact he would practically attempt to steal from us has made me lose pretty much any respect I had for him.

Hopefully this will show you that Kicking is nothing but a thief. Thank you for reading.

Don't even care, don't have the source anyways.

True

Don't have time to play these games with these three.

If I had the source, sure it was a thought. But I don't.

Don't plan to retheme this shit, was a worthless idea that died within minutes.

Oh well. Not worried about it. Nothing went further than a short talk.

Not even sure why this was even made. Hate all you want, I simply don't care.

Also the blacked out name is codefuser, a banned member that wanted to get paid to fuck Tom Cruise over. He simply had the idea to do something to him for money.

Doesn't really matter that it was a "short conversation", the fact you were even willing to start it marks you as someone who can't be trusted. I kinda doubt you don't have the source since why would you message him that if you didn't?

Even then you literally just admitted you would have carried through with retheming it if you had the source.

Said it was a thought. Even then. Don't have time to argue on the internet anymore. I'll take the punishments or whatever. Not worried about this stuff anymore.

eHate - May 18, 2017, 10:52 pm

Even though it's pretty obvious if he could've he would've I gotta say... he didn't so how can he be punished for something he didn't yet do, just cuz he talked about it doesn't mean he for SURE would've. I'm not standing up for anyone I'm just saying if you talk about shooting a gun (in a gun range) it doesn't mean you will do that tomorrow. You may go snowboarding.

EDIT: OOPS! Just saw this is a community alert, I thought it was a scam report ?

TOM - May 19, 2017, 2:32 am

Kicking If you dont have the source why would you even care to contact a coder to rebrand the source you sold ownership rights? ?

what kind of a prank is that ? is it something you made up after your conversation got exposed with the Developer (you're ecrypter partner) you contacted for the rebrand ? ?

oops the moment you forgot who you sold this project too ? within 2 -3 months time ??

Kicking - May 19, 2017, 4:28 am

Already said I don't care. I admitted to it. Now it's over.

SIM-3432714 - May 19, 2017, 4:28 am

Looks like legit community alert, thanks for exposing this leech to the community.

Just like all of Kickings products/services, low quality.

Don't know her. How did you and the new refudder break the crypter then? :)

Cammy - May 21, 2017, 5:11 am

I had a conversation with this guy on discord he seemed a little feeble minded
I guess that was an underestimation

RAT Support - May 21, 2017, 6:06 am

Hope this stays public for a long time because I hate people who do stuff like this.

You have shown the community how untrustworthy you are now good luck getting that trust back.

That's the goal! This thread isn't going to be closed for as long as he's here

NuclearKrabs - May 22, 2017, 12:02 am

Can confirm this happened, also refrain from purchasing eCrypter because the new refudder and kicking managed to break the stub in a wonderful manner.

They do not get involved with deals. They would if they had infinite time, but unfourtantely they don't.

Unfortunately yes that's how it works. It's understandable since there's so many disputes/CA's on this forum they would need like 20 staff to handle them all.

yea but why handle none? they will ban for "low quality" but not even look at deal disputes? what kinda logic is that I am sorry but you cannot expect them to check every deal dispute/community alert thread and review the validity of it. It would be a huge waste of time, the community has the tool it needs to be able to deal safely (trust scan and it's additions).

True im not saying all.. but why not spend more time here in the important section then wasting time hunting for trolls?

Obviously I can't speak for the staffs but only from my observations. Well because Hack Forums is not a marketplace forum. Hunting for trolls is more important than wasting time reviewing deal disputes. If you still don't fully understand it, PM me and I can explain more in-depth.

Won't go anymore off-topic now. My apologies.

It doesn't matter because if they did take action on this report then they would be obligated to do the others. Now let's please stay on the thread topic, el Dalfia feel free to PM me if you want to continue this discussion.

Hi there!

I've been friends with Kicking for almost 8 years. I know that if he'd had the source for this, he'd already do it. I mean, I have the source for when I originally owned it, but that's because I build up an arsenal of sources so I can look back in the past. I'm not, and never will I resell or reskin source codes.

Best wishes,
Ancestral

Well we can see he DID try. And I don't mind if he or you has the source code for personal reasons, I just mind if he tries to leak/resell/rebrand it as he doesn't own it anymore and has no right to hurt my sales by doing so.

I'm pretty sure if Omni see's this he was ban him. I mean there is a low chance but since he admitted to it. Its pretty set.
