A new Chuu2 movie has just been announced and will premiere on Jan 6 2018.

The movie will be set after the events of the second season.

Trailer

Anyone else excited for this? I'm hoping its better than the second season, although I really enjoyed that too.

I actually liked the first season and they should of ended it right there, but no they made some shitty second season so yeah this wil probably suck.

It could suck, but it also might be a better decision to just have a movie instead of another full season. We can only wait and see.
