Thread: Just got accepted to showcase my car at the car show of the YEAR

Sharjah - May 24, 2017, 12:55 am

I know guys... another car thread by Vossen... yes lol, but just got approved into showing my car at a HUGE car show on June 3rd. It takes an application process to get accepted into SHOWCASING your car. Anyone is allowed to purchase tickets and come look at the cars, but in order to have your car showcased, you need to be approved... and looky me, just got approved! There will be live artists there, women in sexy tops, and amazing cars! Pictures I sent to them of my car (the last picture has black rose in it due to the car not being paint matched at the time, but got everything paint matched a few days later!)

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

(Engine bay will be cleaned. Super dirty due to vented hood)

But yep, will be at this car show! If any of you guys are in Arizona, come meet me at the show on June 3rd and see the build!

Last years show in Arizona:

I'm so excited for this

Plans before the show:

Demon eyes

Fix wheel fitment to fit even better with the widebody
Detail the car
Clean out the interior, especially trunk and add wood flooring

Would be hard picking one of the ladies up when I got my own who'll be by my side the whole time.. knowing I'm trying my hardest not to look at the other girls ?

My girlfriend recorded it.. she ended it right before I bottomed the fuck out going down a curb from being parked in the patio... lowlife.

Will upload some more videos, but there aren't any recent ones unfortunately as I just got
