Thread: MYST Coin - 30th May

Click the image to be taken to their website. Their token creation starts on May 30th, and I plan to put some money into it. I like the idea of a decentralized VPN and it seems like they have a good development team. There may be some liability issues with the concept, and I would like to see how they address them. Any thoughts on this coin?

Correct me if i'm wrong, it's almost like people/companies are making some kind technology/product and having a crypto currency that's behind that. idk i'm just seeing all these new coins lately.

Haha I know what you mean,

Instead of a company just making a product/ service they're now starting to use blockchain technology with a crypto currency as well with their product.

I mean, it's the future and it isn't the obvious yet, these companies will grow.

How long do you think it would take for this coin to be listed on Polo

Crypto has become an easy way to raise money. Its like an IPO with zero hassle, so why not? Whether they are sustainable or not is another issue.

I'm holding my money for this, planning to invest in it, nothing big though.
