

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: [\[The Brotherhood\] Crypto Currency Help Desk](#)

Trappy - May 26, 2017, 1:53 pm

Ask any and all questions related to crypto currency. Minimalist, Cryptic, Lookin, and I will do our best to answer all of your questions thoroughly and usefully. We may respond with a reply or a PM, whichever suits the question.

Malik Globale Emipre - May 26, 2017, 1:57 pm

What coins do you personally suggest to invest in for short-term?

Just want your opinion on this.

Elduin - May 26, 2017, 2:01 pm

I've currently invested into strattis, siacoin, btc and eth.

What other coins should I invest in and how much should I spend in it.

Should I have like 50-75% of my money in eth? I see good potential of it.

I got around 3.5-4k dollar to spend.

Roytoy - May 26, 2017, 2:01 pm

What's the most stable coin right now?

DenizZ - May 26, 2017, 2:07 pm

How can I do a good research about any coin so that I can have a idea whether I'd be a good or bad investment? I don't know whether I explained the question well. I got my own methods to research but I think they're not good enough.

Theo™ - May 26, 2017, 2:11 pm

I have 2K to spend, which coin do you suggest for quick return ?

Kill Joy - May 26, 2017, 2:59 pm

(May 26, 2017 02:53 PM)AlexJohn83 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I vouch for Minimalist, but I don't recommend taking advice from Lookin Why's that?

blank. - May 26, 2017, 3:00 pm

What is the relation Bitcoin has to other altcoins, why do they fluctuate when Bitcoin does? Is it because all values are connected to BTC?

Kill Joy - May 26, 2017, 3:05 pm

(May 26, 2017 03:00 PM)AlexJohn83 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I don't recommend taking advice from someone who fakes his earnings

Spoiler \(Click to View\)My signature

Nice ? I don't know how I missed those drama threads.

I don't really give a shit if he faked his earnings; however, I do give a shit if he gives wrong advice. Hopefully these guys here know what they're talkin about.

Cryptic™ - May 26, 2017, 3:08 pm

(May 26, 2017 03:00 PM)blank. Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What is the relation Bitcoin has to other altcoins, why do they fluctuate when Bitcoin does? Is it because all values are connected to BTC?
Because all trading pairs are directly connected to BTC right now.

When you go on exchanges you see BTC/ETH BTC/XMR BTC/EVERYTHING

Altcoins are still a new thing, and eventually at least one altcoin will over-take BTC in utilization in the future (right now that coin looks like ETH because it's great for micro transactions) which is when you will see more ETH/ALTCOIN pairs.

But in the mean time, as long as BTC remains #1 everything will be effected by BTC's price change.

BTC goes up, Altcoins go down. BTC goes down, Altcoins go up.

BTC is the foundation of everything, and it'll slowly get used less and less and will be replaced with something else many years down the road. (Meaning another coin will get used more and more to make your everyday transactions. BTC will likely be used for large transactions.) Right now that something else looks like ETH, but something even better may come along, only time will tell.

Kill Joy - May 26, 2017, 3:10 pm

(May 26, 2017 03:08 PM)Cryptic™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Because all trading pairs are directly connected to BTC right now.

When you go on exchanges you see BTC/ETH BTC/XMR BTC/EVERYTHING

Altcoins are still a new thing, and eventually at least one altcoin will over-take BTC in utilization in the future (right now that coin looks like ETH because it's great for micro transactions) which is when you will see more ETH/ALTCOIN pairs.

But in the mean time, as long as BTC remains #1 everything will be effected by BTC's price change.

BTC goes up, Altcoins go down. BTC goes down, Altcoins go up.

BTC is the foundation of everything, and it's slowly getting outdated and will be replaced with something else many years down the road. Right now that something else looks like ETH, but something even better may come along, only time will tell.

Found this article I read when it came out:

<http://www.coindesk.com/follow-leader-analyzing-bitcoin-cryptocurrency-price-correlations/>

A good read about BTC and some different currencies.

blank. - May 26, 2017, 3:14 pm

(May 26, 2017 03:08 PM)Cryptic™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Because all trading pairs are directly connected to BTC right now.

When you go on exchanges you see BTC/ETH BTC/XMR BTC/EVERYTHING

Altcoins are still a new thing, and eventually at least one altcoin will over-take BTC in utilization in the future (right now that coin looks like ETH because it's great for micro transactions) which is when you will see more ETH/ALTCOIN pairs.

But in the mean time, as long as BTC remains #1 everything will be effected by BTC's price change.

BTC goes up, Altcoins go down. BTC goes down, Altcoins go up.

BTC is the foundation of everything, and it'll slowly get used less and less and will be replaced with something else many years down the road. (Meaning another coin will get used more and more to make your everyday transactions. BTC will likely be used for large transactions.) Right now that something else looks like ETH, but something even better may come along, only time will tell.

(May 26, 2017 03:10 PM)Kill Joy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Found this article I read when it came out:
<http://www.coindesk.com/follow-leader-analyzing-bitcoin-cryptocurrency-price-correlations/>

A good read about BTC and some different currencies.

I see, thanks for clarifying my question. The article has much information to learn about... So is it safe to say ETH is a good investment for a safe, long-term hold? Whilst other altcoins are merely similar to penny stocks in which could have possible exponential growth which investors look to cash out quickly? (I'm not saying all coins are like this, I understand some can be a good possible long term hold and be as big or bigger than BTC)

.Grim - May 26, 2017, 3:14 pm

I'd say ETH is the most stable coin as of now.

Kill Joy - May 26, 2017, 3:18 pm

(May 26, 2017 03:14 PM)blank. Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I see, thanks for clarifying my question. The article has much information to learn about... So is it safe to say ETH is a good investment for a safe, long-term hold? Whilst other altcoins are merely similar to penny stocks in which could have possible exponential growth which investors look to cash out quickly? (I'm not saying all coins are like this, I understand some can be a good possible long term hold and be as big or bigger than BTC)

No one can say 100% it is safe, but we can make a good and fair assumption that it will be good for a long-term investment by looking at all the development, research, and innovation being put into ETH.

I wouldn't view low-priced altcoins as penny stocks. Coins come in starting at 0 whereas a stock can IPO at like $20.

Coin ICO schedule: <https://www.coinschedule.com/>

minimalist - May 26, 2017, 3:21 pm

I'm not the best with quick, high-turnover trades, so I'll leave any investment advice to the others running this help desk.

(May 26, 2017 02:01 PM)Roytoy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What's the most stable coin right now?

I don't think there's a good single stable coin to put your money in at the moment. All of the top 100 coins (by market cap) have been affected by the recent spike and the even more recent drops in value. That includes USDT. Any coins that weren't affected likely don't get enough attention for it to be a good investment.

In my opinion, "most stable" as a metric shouldn't exist in this market.

(May 26, 2017 02:07 PM)DenizZ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) How can I do a good research about any coin so that I can have a idea whether I'd be a good or bad investment? I don't know whether I explained the question well. I got my own methods to research but I think they're not good enough.

I think Reddit and IM groups (Discord, Telegram, etc.) are good sources of unreliable information that you can later research to find credible sources. News gets to the more active options very quickly. Be wary of any FUD that may be posted.

Here are some recommendations:

<https://www.reddit.com/r/CryptoCurrency/>

<https://www.reddit.com/r/BitcoinMarkets/>

<https://www.reddit.com/r/ethtrader/>

Aggregated source:

<https://www.cryptocoinsnews.com/>

Target™ - May 26, 2017, 3:26 pm

Hi there!

Simple question but stupid also (sorry). I am trying to use Minimalist's guide to fix my DGB Gaming Wallet.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5629388>

I downloaded DGB Core, before i can use the method, it says "Syncing Headers X%" at the bottom. I must wait for that to finish before i can try anything right?

minimalist - May 26, 2017, 3:32 pm

(May 26, 2017 03:26 PM)Target™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hi there!

Simple question but stupid also (sorry). I am trying to use Minimalist's guide to fix my DGB Gaming Wallet.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5629388>

I downloaded DGB Core, before i can use the method, it says "Syncing Headers X%" at the bottom. I must wait for that to finish before i can try anything right?

Yes - what you're doing is grabbing all of the blocks (excluding actual details about the blocks) on the DGB blockchain.

Target™ - May 26, 2017, 3:38 pm

Ok so just to make clear i have to wait for the "Syncing Headers X%" to go away?

OK sounds good - thank you

'Fox - May 26, 2017, 3:46 pm

So i have some btc that i withdrew from a site, however previous 5+ transactions that were used to send me the funds were not confirmed either.

My question is should i try to accelerate my transaction or the base one that has not been confirmed?

Here is the blockchain link for it:

<https://blockchain.info/tx/6107e81d91f5a135abadcd45b8c22b45a8a36d32dc84138e9e0d631230f6e43d>

Elduin - May 26, 2017, 3:53 pm

I got another question.

Where can I store alt coins? I'm using jaxx right now, but all alt coins isn't there.

Nick Elite - May 26, 2017, 3:54 pm is there a way to mine syscoin?

Cryptic™ - May 26, 2017, 3:58 pm

(May 26, 2017 03:54 PM)Spermie Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) is there a way to mine syscoin?
<http://syscoin.org/faqs/can-solo-mine-wallet/>

Best to join a pool.

Also, I would not recommend mining any coin, you make much more much faster from investing.

'Fox - May 26, 2017, 3:59 pm

(May 26, 2017 03:53 PM)Elduin Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I got another question.

Where can I store alt coins? I'm using jaxx right now, but all alt coins isn't there.
You should probably list which alt coins you want to store specifically.

Sulfer - May 26, 2017, 4:03 pm

Had a BTC exchange almost two days ago and it still hasn't confirmed. I heard this is because the BTC fees were not enough.

Isn't there a way to speed this process up and whats the recommended Fee percentage?

Cryptic™ - May 26, 2017, 4:04 pm

(May 26, 2017 04:03 PM)Sulfer Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Had a BTC exchange almost two days ago and it still hasn't confirmed. I heard this is because the BTC fees were not enough.

Isn't there a way to speed this process up and whats the recommended Fee percentage?
When sending a payment increase the fee.

You can get the recommended Fee from <https://bitcoinfees.21.co/>

Or

If you store your BitCoins in Jaxx they make it super easy, just go to settings --> Fees --> and set it to FAST so that you always get your payments as soon as possible.

It automatically gets the recommended fee to get confirmations within 1 or 2 blocks.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

You can get Jaxx at www.jaxx.io

Elduin - May 26, 2017, 4:05 pm

(May 26, 2017 03:59 PM)Fox Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) You should probably list which alt coins you want to store specifically.

I need a wallet for stratis and siacoin right now and will invest in other coins shortly.

Cryptic™ - May 26, 2017, 4:06 pm

(May 26, 2017 04:05 PM)Elduin Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I need a wallet for stratis and siacoin right now and will invest in other coins shortly.

I have over 3M Sia and just store it on Poloniex right now, they store everything in cold wallets so it's all right for now. As soon as Jaxx releases the update with 60+ coins I will be moving it all over to Jaxx.

I don't recommend storing coins on exchanges but I'm just waiting for Jaxx atm as I'm too lazy to setup individual wallets.

You can get a Sia wallet here <https://github.com/NebulousLabs/Sia-UI/releases>

Stratis wallet here https://stratisplatform.com/stratis-token/stratis_wallet/

Trappy - May 26, 2017, 4:16 pm

(May 26, 2017 01:57 PM)Malik Globale Emipre Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What coins do you personally suggest to invest in for short-term?

Just want your opinion on this.

For short term and day trades just look at the graphs, the value and even functionality of the coin doesn't matter.

Target™ - May 26, 2017, 4:33 pm

I keep on getting this error, while trying to fix my DGB Gaming Wallet error?

Any clue?

That Poppy - May 26, 2017, 4:55 pm

(May 26, 2017 03:21 PM)Minimalist Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'm not the best with quick, high-turnover trades, so I'll leave any investment advice to the others running this help desk.

I don't think there's a good single stable coin to put your money in at the moment. All of the top 100 coins (by market cap) have been affected by the recent spike and the even more recent drops in value. That includes USDT. Any coins that weren't affected likely don't get enough attention for it to be a good investment.

In my opinion, "most stable" as a metric shouldn't exist in this market.

I know I'm always talking about stratis and how great it is and is going to be...

But stratis has actually been holding very strong and is really stable with a very healthy uptrend.

Kill Joy - May 26, 2017, 5:19 pm

(May 26, 2017 03:46 PM)Fox Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) So i have some btc that i withdrew from a site, however previous 5+ transactions that were used to send me the funds were not confirmed either.

My question is should i try to accelerate my transaction or the base one that has not been confirmed?

Here is the blockchain link for it:

<https://blockchain.info/tx/6107e81d91f5a135abadcd45b8c22b45a8a36d32dc84138e9e0d631230f6e43d>

Accelerate the base one first.

Read this tutorial: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5625650>

PM me if you still need help.

theDuke - May 26, 2017, 5:21 pm

(May 26, 2017 04:33 PM)Target™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#)

I keep on getting this error, while trying to fix my DGB Gaming Wallet error?

Any clue?

I believe the gaming wallet takes 20gb disk space.

Have you gotten this error anywhere else? You might be low on space.

DenizZ - May 26, 2017, 7:30 pm

(May 26, 2017 03:21 PM)Minimalist Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I think Reddit and IM groups (Discord, Telegram, etc.) are good sources of unreliable information that you can later research to find credible sources. News gets to the more active options very quickly. Be wary of any FUD that may be posted.

Here are some recommendations:

<https://www.reddit.com/r/CryptoCurrency/>

<https://www.reddit.com/r/BitcoinMarkets/>

<https://www.reddit.com/r/ethtrader/>

Aggregated source:

<https://www.cryptocoinsnews.com/>

Thank you. I actually never checked reddit, seems like a good addition to my way of doing a research.

'Fox - May 26, 2017, 10:28 pm

Hello, does anyone know of a wallet that can accept ethereum with it able to create/change to a new address while still going to the same wallet.

For example you can do this with multibit, but thats with BTC only.

(May 26, 2017 05:19 PM)Kill Joy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Accelerate the base one first.

Read this tutorial: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5625650>

PM me if you still need help.

Thanks

theDuke - May 26, 2017, 10:42 pm

(May 26, 2017 10:28 PM)Fox Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hello, does anyone know of a wallet that can accept ethereum with it able to create/change to a new address while still going to the same wallet.

For example you can do this with multibit, but thats with BTC only.

Thanks

You can try <https://www.myetherwallet.com/>

It's an open source web interface as well, and can be used only with ETH.

Also, Jaxx might be an option.

I think they have the feature you are asking for.

Fox - May 26, 2017, 10:43 pm

(May 26, 2017 10:42 PM)Travi$_Scott Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) You can try <https://www.myetherwallet.com/>

It's an open source web interface as well, and can be used only with ETH.

Also, Jaxx might be an option.

I think they have the feature you are asking for.

Jaxx does not have this option, let me try myetherwallet.

edit: myetherwallet does not do this either.

Roytoy - May 27, 2017, 8:17 am

Is there a good Eth online wallet? (that is safe)

minimalist - May 27, 2017, 8:19 am

(May 26, 2017 10:28 PM)Fox Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hello, does anyone know of a wallet that can accept ethereum with it able to create/change to a new address while still going to the same wallet.

For example you can do this with multibit, but thats with BTC only.

Thanks

The code exists:

<https://github.com/trapp/ethereum-bip44>

But it's a tad problematic and confusing with Ethereum because it uses accounts, not wallets. Jaxx is even considering removing the feature:

https://www.reddit.com/r/ethereum/comments/67y35l/jaxx_erc20_token_plans_hd_removal_process/

Trappy - May 27, 2017, 11:28 am

(May 27, 2017 08:17 AM)Roytoy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Is there a good Eth online wallet? (that is safe)

All online wallets carry a risk. Site can get hacked, administrator can run, site could go down. Hardware wallets are a safer bet.

Cryptic™ - May 27, 2017, 11:51 am

(May 27, 2017 08:17 AM)Roytoy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Is there a good Eth online wallet? (that is safe)

If your holding large amounts of coins it's best to get a hardware wallet like the Ledger Nano S.

Other than that, I recommend Jaxx since it's completely client sided.

Using online wallets or storing on exchanges have a lot of risk.

hose10 - May 29, 2017, 3:48 pm can i mine any coins with sgminer? also any sgminer tutorial? i have searched and i have only topics from 2014 not working..

SIM-2562043 - May 30, 2017, 3:27 pm

Great work guys, keep it up!

Cryptic™ - May 30, 2017, 3:30 pm

(May 29, 2017 03:48 PM)hose10 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) can i mine any coins with sgminer? also any sgminer tutorial? i have searched and i have only topics from 2014 not working..

SGminer is obsolete.

There is no new official fork.

Take a look here to find miners <https://bitcointalk.org/index.php?board=160.0>

Decide on the coin you want to mine and find a miner based on that.

justdidit - June 1, 2017, 9:21 am

Hi, so the current price of BTC is ~$2200. Suppose I want to invest in cryptocurrency. What advise would you give? Should I invest in BTC or altcoins like ETH, Siacoin, Stratis?

P.S- I will be holding them for some time.

I am thinking to invest in Siacoin/Stratis.

That Poppy - June 1, 2017, 9:26 am

Why am I not invited to brotherhood yet, I also have a big penis and big monies :/

Net - June 1, 2017, 9:41 am

Is there a good forum on the internet that focuses mainly on crypto currencies?

FileX - June 1, 2017, 9:58 am

(Jun 1, 2017 09:41 AM)Mr. Alderson Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Is there a good forum on the internet that focuses mainly on crypto currencies?

There is <https://bitcointalk.org/> and <https://cryptocurrencytalk.com/>

That Poppy - June 1, 2017, 10:34 am

(Jun 1, 2017 09:41 AM)Mr. Alderson Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Is there a good forum on the internet that focuses mainly on crypto currencies?

There's a big slack channel, also plenty of forums can be found with a google search...

SavageAF - June 1, 2017, 10:35 am

Bitcoin transaction taking forever to confirm or refund, any way I can force it to start confirming or refund to my balance?

Trappy - June 1, 2017, 7:56 pm

(Jun 1, 2017 10:35 AM)SavageAF Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Bitcoin transaction taking forever to confirm or refund, any way I can force it to start confirming or refund to my balance?

Bitcoin transaction refund, what? That isn't possible. What is possible is that you sent your transaction with too small of a fee, which will cause it to take awhile to confirm. What was your fee?

If it's urgent you can pay people to speed the transaction up for you.