Pm me if you chose to resolve this...

Deal was $112 for $102 worth of btc.

Didn't see he already had a open dispute, but he had good reputation which made me think better about him.

And I have been looking for a btc - pp exchanger for a while now, which made me do this exchange with him..

HF profile/UID to him: <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=2303490> uid=2303490

My payment to him:

[b]Another person getting scammed by him recently:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5598479>

Will be updating this thread if he decide to answer and pay me, which he probably won't. ?

Don't deal with him![/b]

He just started exchanging again with a dif name.

I don't understand why you still dealt with him after looking at his rep.

You could attempt to charge-back, however I don't really know in your case.

Yaniel - May 28, 2017, 10:35 am

Don't understand how people still get scammed by him lol.

I know it was dumb trusting this person, was tierd while looking for the exchange.

How many disputes will this person need before he gets banned?

Only way a user would I think get banned is that if he confessed to scamming on HF, other than that, he's going to say here for awhile.

Tough luck buddy, he will never be banned. He ate you for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. And probably the next day's meals as well. My condolences
