Overview

Multiple APIs

We support multiple APIs, such as Poloniex, Bittrex and CoinMarketCap.

Clean UI

Using Material Design we came up with a super clean UI that's easy on the eyes.

Socialize

Are you impressed by someone? Well then let them know by giving them a "Impressed" on their profile.

API Access

With our API you can easily integrate your stats with your application.

Features

Clean looking UI

Verified Investments (Automaticially grab orders from either Polo or Bittrex)

Imports buys and sells and calculate the profits

Connect Altpocket.io with Poloniex & Bittrex

Hundreds of coins supported

Multiple APIs

- Ability to use our API (grab your investments into your app/etc)
- Add investments by bitcoin price or USD price
- Mark investments as sold
- Clean profile view
- Customizable Avatar/Header/HF Profile URL/About Text/Biography
- Takes bitcoin price at day bought into calculation
- More Social than other platforms (If you are impressed by a portfolio you can give them a "impressed")
- User list to see all users of Altpocket.
- Calculates the difference between BTC the day you bought and today to determine if you made profit even if the price of your coin went down.
- Dark/Night theme

Altpocket has a clean design that many users will love. In my opinion, Altpocket is the most advanced of the three portfolios, being able to pull API's from Poloniex and Bittrex is a great asset to trading.

Altpocket is also the only portfolio I know that allows you to comment on anyone's portfolio a unique addition to their website. Altpocket serves as my favourite of the three portfolios to date because of the clean UI and accurate prices on altcoins.

Opinion

Although I haven't used Coininventory I cannot leave it out of this list. From what I hear Coininventory surpasses other portfolios in features, as listed above Coininventory is a unique portfolio that has much to offer.

This is a portfolio I will definitely sign up for to test out in the future... the customization features are endless.

MyAltCoins.net Overview

Easily Track and Share your Investments and Profits with others! Minimalistic website to view your investments and share with others.

Features
Clean design
Easy inputs and easy to follow design
Ledger options when selling investments
Share your portflio easily

Opinion

MyAltCoins is my first coin investment portfolio. I love the simple design that comes with it, I still use it to this day alongside Altpocket, sharing is easy with this website and you don't have to deal with any complications when maneuvering with the website.

Using this on mobile is really easy, and when I'm on the go its amazing for looking at my investments in a flash. Overall I'd recommend using this for on the go ease.

Notes

*Most information in this thread comes from each respective owners thread. I'm simplying creating this thread so you are able to compare each portfolio for future use or research.

Currently I think AltPocket is the best, but once MyAltCoins gets a redesign and update, it might be the new winner.

I like the simplistic display of myaltcoins.net, I'm not using it to look pretty I'm using it to quickly check my investments(gambles ?)

All different answers here, I've added a poll of the three so we can see the most commonly used portfolio.

Myaltcoins is perfect for me, simple to use, basic layout and a clear summary of my investments. Nothing else is needed

m4dh4ck3r - May 29, 2017, 8:42 pm

You should add cryptocompare.

It's pretty good imo.

Altpocket because it's easy and automatic.

boost - May 29, 2017, 9:15 pm

I use myaltcoins on the daily basis. Def love it!

Fragger - May 29, 2017, 9:17 pm

Not a fan of any of the other layouts.

Always been attracted to the simple layout of myaltcoins.

Bilzerian - May 30, 2017, 9:39 am coininventory very accurate, very simplistic nice alt-pocket is nice, its new so there's quite a few problems with it right now. Will use alt-pocket as my main when everything is fixed. still really like alt-pocket

Prophett - May 30, 2017, 9:40 am

I use and prefer myaltcoins. I personally think it's the best.

blank. - May 30, 2017, 12:46 pm

Altpocket seems to have the edge here, couldn't agree more.

Onte - May 30, 2017, 1:38 pm

Altpocket.io is the best and will be even better in the close future!

We have some crazy feature on the way. Stay tuned.

Fountain Of Youth - August 28, 2017, 5:17 am

I get this error on coininventory and myaltcoins

This site can't provide a secure connection

coinventory.net uses an unsupported protocol.
ERR_SSL_VERSION_OR_CIPHER_MISMATCH

This site can't provide a secure connection

myaltcoins.net uses an unsupported protocol.
ERR_SSL_VERSION_OR_CIPHER_MISMATCH

The client and server don't support a common SSL protocol version or cipher suite. This is likely to be caused when the server needs RC4, which is no longer considered secure.

THE NORTH FACE - August 28, 2017, 9:08 pm

Myaltcoins is what I use. Simple, easy, and none of that api mumbo jumbo?

Ditrix - August 28, 2017, 10:13 pm

I'm using this one.

Thanks you very much! I was searching a portfolio for computer, I was using only Blockfolio in Android.

FroggyRails889 - August 31, 2017, 9:01 am a lot of these api coin portfolio watchers have a lot of issues and disadvantages. sometimes its better to just use blockfolio or use something like excel or google sheets.

Altpocket.io is very easy to use for your typical investor/trader, I think that's what people look for. In my opinion it would be a pain to always update a google or excel sheet every time I make a trade.
