Thread: Daily 40 Post Lounge Limit

TB12 - May 29, 2017, 10:35 pm

Can't find anything in the Help Docs regarding this. First time this has happened, but I reached the 40 post daily limit for the lounge today that non l33ts/ub3rs have. When does this reset? I am guessing 24 hours after the first lounge post I made for the day but I want to know for sure. Thanks a lot

P.S. I think the "Policy Question" option is an appropriate prefix for this thread. Sorry if I am wrong

FamousHater - May 29, 2017, 10:36 pm

yes it will reset and then can go back to spamming lounge:P

Gary - May 29, 2017, 10:38 pm

Its 24 hours now? It used to be 20 or at least it felt like 20 for me when I was first starting here. I was max out each day.

Its there to prevent retards like us from spamming nonsense when we first join to get that post count up to PM.

I dont remember how it worked tho...

I know it will reset but my question is when. Also I did not mean to post that much in the lounge today, there were some good ass threads there today lol :)

I just got the alert that I met my limit within the last 30 minutes. I'm guessing it doesn't reset at midnight and works like how the daily reps allowed to give are handled

Ah that makes sense thanks a lot. Not doubting you, but I hope maybe a staff member can give an official answer. These systems can get complicated :)

Yeah, I dont really remember as 2013 was a long time ago and I was a regular member for about 2 months or something xd. Sorry I couldn't give a clear answer.

It's all good man, glad you gave me your thought of how it works. :)

Wait this is a thing?

Does it apply to Uber or rekt members?

If so that's kind of sad. My lounge posts are all decently thought out.

If you have either l33t or ub3r this doesn't affect you. Had no idea this existed, kind of emberassing I had to find out myself to be honest. I look like a spammer lol feelsbadman when you hit it every day for two weeks straight and have nothing else to do cause you're not in a group or active in other sections xd

You obviously love this website so you should upgrade your account to show your support.

Well at least I am in a group. I should get more active in the Science, Religion, Philosophy, and Politics section though. I love having respectful mature debates with people :)

Only a few people on here know about this but I am currently in a rough finance situation, got fucked over by the job I got hired to do that I was going to start today to improve things. I will get l33t eventually though :)

I was just able to post in the lounge. It appears that it resets at a specific time everyday no matter when you first posted, unlike the daily rep limit function.

EDIT: says I can't again, my theory was wrong

You know, Hack Forums has a few other sections as well (;

Vitani - May 30, 2017, 7:07 am

Either it will reset at the start of a new day or it gets handled like reputation, which means you'll be able to make another post in the lounge when the first post out of the 40 you posted today has passed the 24 hours.

Lol yeah, normally don't post that much in the lounge in a single day

The staff want me in the posting council as a posting master

Alright sounds good, thanks a lot everyone. This can be closed

I never knew about this rule, quite interesting however it makes perfect sense to prevent new accounts spamming.

Prince™ - May 30, 2017, 8:47 am

Never heard about this either.
