Thread: Anyone know a website to hosts contests?

Lor?d - June 6, 2017, 12:46 am

I'm looking for a website where I can host a contest that would basically allow people to enter their name or something and it'd allow entries for like 2-3 days then would pick a random winner once it's closed.

Does anyone know of a website like this or if such a thing even exists?

What about gleam.io?

Not sure if they have exactly names and that, but I'm sure other things are pretty useful and help with getting more people.

Even if they don't have names, you could use a thing from there that could lead you to their names.
