Breakbot - June 8, 2017, 8:18 pm

it was rated 20% by rotten tomatoes , definitely a shit movie

It doesn't work like that anymore on Youtube

One guy streams something, then 20 more starts

If they get takedown strikes then another 40 ones start

Just go to the Live tab on Youtube now and check how many movies that are being livestreamed, They do get copyright strikes but a new one pops up the same second

If I ever judged a movie by rotten tomatoes I don't think I would have ever seen a good movie.

B FOR BADASS - June 8, 2017, 10:17 pm

I have only seen the trailers and teasers on youtube and it looks awesome especially when they mummify the girl especially when she is alive. Cheers

Name one great movie that is below 50% on Rotten Tomatoes. Protip: You can't.

I only pay attention to James Berardinelli reviews anyways for past, current and future movies. For all past movies, I only pay attention to James Berardinelli and Roger Ebert reviews.

ForceJew - June 9, 2017, 8:26 am

YEP!

Every movie with Tom is worth a wait.

I like how the guy is 54 and he does those stunts.
