Thread: Consensus | Crypto Converter | A Devastating Good-bye |

Xeenon - June 9, 2017, 10:43 am

I would like to proudly announce the release of <http://www.cryptoinf.net>. A collaboration between The Brotherhoods' Crypto Sector and our amazing member, Skidy. Our amazing member has managed to provide the community with what it needs. A simple, but appealing website that will allow you to check the conversion for the top crypto coins. Consider this a goodbye gift from us, here at The Brotherhoods' Crypto Sector. May the brotherhood forever live on.

Today is a sad for me, personally. The Crypto Sector has not been something that has been around on Hack Forums for a very long time, but in the short period of time we have been here, we have been able to really surprise, and connect with the community. We have managed to hit the nail in every time in terms of what we have released for the community. The idea of running this Crypto Sector struck me approximately two months ago, though, I had no idea where, how and what to do. I was stuck in an idea, and I had nobody there to help me make it come to life. I spoke to people that I knew had experience in this community, primarily experience in managing things.

Started out contacting some people I spoke to, no success, talked to group owners – not interested. That is until I met one, amazing, person. Cryptic™ is the one who made all of this possible. Without him I would never have released the Crypto News, I would never have taken part in the heavy amount of discussions, work in relation to cryptocurrencies. I forever am grateful for the help I was given by Cryptic.

It has all come to end now. The Crypto Sector is officially closing. In our short period of time, we have managed to take the community with a storm. We have provided something amazing for the community, and that is our help desk, our informational thread, and last, but most importantly: our weekly news thread. This idea has gained us A LOT of publicity, a lot of thanks and a lot of attention from both the members, but also from our very own administrator, Omniscient.

I have managed to work with some of the most amazing people I have ever met on here within a short time-frame, and I am forever grateful for that. I want to thank you all very, very much for going through this (sadly short) journey with me, in running this amazing sector inside The Brotherhood. There are no hard feelings against anyone, and I personally respect and understand why Cryptic is letting go of The Brotherhood.

I was going to quit Hack Forums as soon as this news were published with me and Illuminati. I had no reason to stay on here anymore, as all I loved doing was running this sector with these amazing members. I realized that it was the last and short straw for me. A short journey on Hack Forums has come to an end. Until. 'Fox contacted me, asking me if I would like to run my own group on here. I was excited, and I knew exactly what I had to do.

The Brotherhood was founded on June 24th, 2013, and this means the group has been up and running for approximately four years. I have sadly not witnessed the group throughout all these years, but for all I have heard and seen, I can only guess the group has always been amazing as it is now.

Great work guys!

On to the new group!

Skidy - June 9, 2017, 10:45 am

Its such a shame about the Brotherhood, although I am fairly new I have felt welcome by all. Long live BH. Now onto the future, there are bright things for Lookin's new group.

Cryptoing.net

Current Features:

- Shows top 12 coinsmarketgap in real time
- Shows btc information (Market Cap, 24h Vol and BTC Dominance) in real time
- Ability to chose which currency exchange you are converting with
- When you change the currency (USD, GBP) it changes the currency to all the top 12 coins too.
- Simple and clean design.

Future Features:

- Make it look better on mobile.
- Have every crypto-currency available to convert (very very easy to do but needs to handle it better. i.e. a search on the drop down)
- More information displayed (what do you users want from this? Whats missing?)
- [Maybe] A real time graph for specific coins. Easy to see.
- Specify your to and from conversions in the URL.
- Title has current conversion.

Question, is it live price changes like how preev is?

Indeed (has different site options - using Coinbase, Kraken, Bitstamp, Bitfinex) however as Omni stated (thread). They don't have ETH or any new coins.

To help people remember the site name just think of this:

Cryptoing.

Crypto as in cryptocurrency and toing is to go back and forth.

Grizzlies - June 9, 2017, 10:54 am

As a mobile user, you should fix the size of the site. A bit annoying scrolling left and right all the time to check alt-coins

Will most likely use this in the future.

Its is in my Future Features bit. Will be done in the next couple of days. Making it mobile friendly I always struggle with.

Any more suggestions?

I'd recommend tossing Cloudflare on your site and enabling their free Flexible SSL.

SSL is better for SEO rankings.

If you need any help just shoot me a PM.

Btw it would be awesome if you could add more currencies and other Crypto currencies into the converter as well. Like if you were able to search for the currency it could have multiple uses as well.

What would be the difference between your site and the already existing CMC calculator which already has implemented the future plans you are talking about:

Whats the real differences between other forums, cars, calculators, computers?

Mine has a few things here and there that make it better (IMO) than that site. Mine takes the average cost (if all boxes are ticked), shows top 12 coins, all btc stats on one simple page.

If there was just 1 thing for everything and it pretty much did the same thing it would be a very boring world. Why don't I buy the same desk and chair or house as you. I might be taking this to the extreme but tbh everything is different. There are millions of file uploading sites but why do I use dropbox or hisky.space?

Thanks for the feedback anyhow. ?

Yeah, I enjoyed making this site. Was pretty fun, kept my occupied for a few hours.

Giga - June 9, 2017, 1:34 pm

Quote:Whats the real differences between other forums, cars, calculators, computers?

The difference is very large: functionality, applicability, efficiency just to name a few.

Quote:Mine has a few things here and there that make it better (IMO) than that site. Mine takes the average cost (if all boxes are ticked), shows top 12 coins, all btc stats on one simple page.

But Coinmarketcap does all of those things as well and much more, I'm not seeing too many differences here besides that it is all on one page.

I'm sorry but this is an awful argument to convince people to use your site. You basically just said that diversity > functionality and efficiency.

Quote:Thanks for the feedback anyhow. ?

You make it out like I was trying to attack your site? I was simply asking a legitimate question. You need an incentive for people to use your site over others, that is where the diversity comes in to play. Not just for the sake of colors or variety. You could have just responded with your goal for the site is to jampack coinmarketcap onto one page with a more appealing design as that is what this is seeming like. The problem I have with that is that it will destroy the purpose of the efficiency of use because of the terrible load times it will cause.

I honestly wish you the best of luck and I hope you are able to figure this thing out. ?

that diversity > functionality and efficiency.

What I was trying to get at (and it was poorly explained as I was on mobile), was that a site can do the same as another and be more appealing. This can causes more people to use it. A better example would be android apps, there are many versions of flappy bird out there, all with the same principle but due to design, certain characterises etc.. it appealed to more people.

The site I built aims to not only provide functionality and efficiency but great design. If you look at the features (and upcoming features) you can clearly see how my site (imo) out weighs the one you posted. However, if you want a bog standard cal then either one is fine. Mine will aim to provide all the other things (as well as the standard functionality) of a cryptocurrency calculator and more.

Not trying to jampack anything. The point of the site is its simplicity and "functionality".. also the fact it was great fun to code.

I know you are not trying to attack it, I disagree with some of your previous comments. Nevertheless, constructive criticism is always welcome.

The loading times are not an issue at this moment in time (and with some of my testing will remain not an issue when I add more currencies - this is almost done now). Will keep it simple for users to use.

At the end of the day it comes down to whatever people want to use, whether it be his, or a different one. He doesn't have to try to "win people over" he could have just made it for fun and posted it here to show people, and if they want to use it they can. Simple as that. No need to get on anyones case about how he wants to bring people to his site. For all we know he might not give a fuck if no one uses it at all.

It would be nice if you could add a Chinese Yuan as a fiat currency as well - CNY.

Also if you could add the full name of coins while we search for example; when I type siacoin nothing appears and I have to use SC instead this stands for all other coins as well.

Some of use would like to type bitcoin instead of btc or monero not xmr but meh beside that everythings seems smooth and fast. Thanks :)

Would be cool to have an area or just something where you can add in your investments so you can see your live profits kinda like Blockfolio.

Also would be cool if you added Alerts like Chrome/Mobile notifications so people can set alerts when the price goes above or lower their set amount.

(Jun 11, 2017 08:45 AM)RANSOMWARE. Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) It would be nice if you could add a Chinese Yuan as a fiat currency as well - CNY.

Also if you could add the full name of coins while we search for example; when I type siacoin nothing appears and I have to use SC instead this stands for all other coins as well.

Some of use would like to type bitcoin instead of btc or monero not xmr but meh beside that everythings seems smooth and fast. Thanks :)

Again, easy to do and will come in the next update! So far:

- Change "simple btc converter name"
- Option to not round coin values
- Add CNY
- Add other name searches
- Add STRAT to XMR etc.. Not just all real currencies.

Why thank you. I tend to add every suggestion people have (with reason). Im always using a converter to check values and things.

Someone (another user PM'd me regarding the notifications [SMS and Desktop Notifications]) and its something that will be definitely be on my to do list.

In regards to portfolios, there are already 3 really great ones out there. myaltcoins.com etc.. Mine wouldn't be any different.

Notifications will be added, will talk to someone about this in more depth.

There was another idea to add to the site (idea from The Brotherhood), having a calendar where all the upcoming events for coins are added. This way you can see which coins are most likely to be spoken about etc.

^ Need some ideas for it. Would it be something people want?

Definitely do this. Would be really nice to have that on site and not go through articles to find out specific info for all the users who might not know how to properly search for information.

Update #2

- Changed a few names and fixed a bug.
- Option to round/not round crypto currency values.
- Added currency CNY and symbol.
- You can now search by the full name, btc or bitcoin (siacoin or sia).
- You can convert any currency to the top 12 coins. E.g. BTC to STRAT. SC to DASH etc..
- Will automatically refresh your cache (site updates now when you just load it). However, if you do have any issues try doing this..

I have implemented everyone's suggestions. Let me know what other things need improving.

Bugs:

- If name is too long (in the top 12 coins) it sometimes messes up the lining. I am working on a fix for this.

Awesome mate, looking fantastic!

As far as the -%values would you mind adding in a mouse over or something that says the time of those drops/increases? Like last hour? Last 24 hours? What.

So just go it is straight:

When you mouse of it it shows:

% increase/decrease over hour, 24 hours and 7 days?

I could also add a quick and easy link to view it on the coinmarketcap.

Because the next update wont be for a few days I quickly added in SEK for you. The symbol kr I just put at the beginning of the price. This will be changed in the future.

Also in the next update:

- Specify conversion rates in the URL.

Update #4

- Fixed inline bug
- Added fiat currency SEK
- You can now find prices using the URL. For example.

<https://cryptoing.net/?from=STRAT&to=EUR&amount=2>

OR

<https://cryptoing.net/?from=WINGS&to=SEK&amount=1200>

I am trying to make it look cleaner so you just have to do:

cryptoing.net/STRAT/EUR/2 - Still figuring that out.

I might make my own thread on this so its easier to keep up to date with all of the updates.
