That is not date brother, that is month.

I guess your service is active when date changes to 11th on HF. (Unless you are providing your service for complete month :P)

PM'ing you the links, Thanks!

That was my fault, my countries format is different to the US and I didn't spot that, edit; it closes the second the 11th starts.

The two users who posted above regarding their accounts I believe have mistaken this service for a normal like service. This is an auto-like service, each new post you post receives the likes within 10 seconds, it can not be added to old posts.

Awesome, all three of you are included currently. If the other two members don't want to be in the draw due to thinking it's something else, I will happily exclude them.

Exclude me, I thought this is something else.

Sorry!
