Thread: Elitas' 1 Year Feedback Thread

Elitas - June 11, 2017, 8:13 am

Just noticed I have hit the big 365 on my Trust Scan!

I'm just going to list out a few things I've liked about HF which I think work well and maybe rant a little about some things on here I don't like.

Firstly, I want to thank Omniscient for creating this forum. To be able to run a forum like this with only 1 administrator is a pretty amazing feat and I think Omni should be proud of himself. This forum has been a big part of my life for the past 1 year and I have learned a lot. It has helped me get many promotions in work by peaking my interest in computer programming & hacking.

I really like the current staff members, I think that things are getting along very smoothly and I hope they will stay active in the future.

One group of people I don't think get enough credit on here are the Mentors. These guys help moderate the forums and I always see them online stopping spammers. I think this is a vital group to have on this forum as the staff and admins can't deal with spammers and troll posts on a forum which has millions of members and over 500+ members online at any given time.

I recently heard Omni was planning on removing the VPN blocks. I'm not sure if this happened but I think it'd be an awesome addition to HF! We already have lots of scammers and multi-accounters and I think we need to have a better way of dealing with them. After all, this is a hacking forum, and VPN blocks won't be able to keep out all the multi-accounts.

Special thanks to the Writ3rs. They are a great group of guys. I look forward to returning to these forums next week as I'm currently away.

The best group of people I've met on HF is The Order. This group is honestly just awesome. There is not one bad soul in The Order and I've had an amazing time being a part of the group. I'd recommend this group to anyone as Krave and Callum are awesome leaders.

I recently purchased a subforum in Revolution, which is quickly becoming an extremely active lounge group similar to The Order. I decided I'd make it about business as that is a field I am trying to better myself in and I have an interest in. I mean, who doesn't like making money?

Overall the forum has some pretty cool things which I have not seen elsewhere. The group scene can be criticized as much as people like - But it's still awesome! I really like groups and think they add a lot of HF. I also think that the marketplace here is unique and I can always spend my extra few hours browsing the marketplace seeing what things are being sold.

Sorry if I missed anyone, I literally just read through the Revolution discord group and wrote down anyone I've ever spoken to in it. I think while compiling this list I realized that I talk to a large variety of people on here and don't realllly have many friends I talk to consistently.

A few things I'd like to see on HF would be maybe a new theme. As a new member the default theme was a little weird. The boxes in the background matched up with the grey theme just seemed like a step back into history. It took me around a month to fully adjust to the theme. I no longer feel it being weird and it would actually be annoying adjusting to a new theme, but I think for the sake of the new users and the future of Hack Forums, I'd like to see a new design. I would really hate to see us move away from MyBB as I think it helps to define Hack Forums and without it we wouldn't be HF!

I'll put more effort into a testimonial in a few years or something but I have to watch TV right now..

HF to the moon!

Nice feedback Elitas, congratz on hitting 1 year and I hope to see you for many more years on HF :)

Regulus - July 22, 2017, 4:33 pm

You're an angel Elitas.

Looking forward to many more years <3

I thought you had been here longer, oh well.

Nice feedback but you missed me.

That's because you were not here when they were actually good.

Also selling buyins to a group doesn't make you a business man.

What I'm saying is that groups are still awesome. I'm sure they could be better but they are awesome.

And I don't make anywhere near as much off buyins as I do from my actual businesses outside of HF.

Posted this like a month ago, but yeah I'm relatively new to HF xD.
