Thread: Poloniex SIACoin withdrawals issue?

Apocryphon - June 11, 2017, 9:38 am

Anybody withdrew coins and didn't get them?

I withdrew siacoin yesterday when they enabled the withdrawal feature, the tx says is completed on the polo page but i cannot find it on the sia explorer and nothing is in my wallet. I sent ticket and they said they will look into it, but no reply so far...

I've readed a lot of people have the same issue on reddit..

EDIT;UPDATE

After 11 months they have returned the coins. NEVER EVER USE POLONIEX FOR CRYPTO TRADING, WORST SITE EVER! ?

Yes, same. They told me wallet is under maintenance still and they are working on it in the ticket.

Only thing we can do is wait :\

I still don't know why they keep it open? ..

Withdrew 100 SC as a test a couple of days ago (when it came back up) & still processing on their end apparently. Wont be withdrawing SIA from poloniex again as I took to reddit and people are missing thousands of dollars.

Yeah when I sent my SC in I emailed them twice. As soon as I contacted support the coins showed up.

This has been constantly occuring on polo. Id suggest just being patient and waiting to get hit with an update.

So Sia will rise again tomorrow when they fix it, sweet.

Cyber Knight - June 11, 2017, 10:22 am

Looks like DGB exchange is also down at the moment. Anybody else facing problems?

Still waiting on a withdrawal from 3 weeks ago :/

Apocryphon - August 15, 2017, 5:27 am

Once again... Withdrawal styck as processing 1 month ago.... polo sucks

Apocryphon - July 4, 2018, 11:22 am

I have big news. After almost a year they have returned the coins that were stuck as processing. I'm still stuck with the verification thought.

I'm never going to use Poloniex again in the future. ?

shreder - July 6, 2018, 4:37 am

Now owned by Circle which imho makes it worse.

btw, SIA is pointless hence it's worthless. Peak price was 9 cents during the crypto-mania-bubble and is now worth a penny. In relation to every other reasonable blockchain technology and crypto asset that's terrible. ETH for example peak was about $1390 and is now $470. Most assets are about 1/3rd or their highs from Dec-Jan but SIA is down 90%. That's huge. Even Storj which is a competing technology had a high of $2.60 and today still worth 50 cents.

It's a very bad technology SIA and the math does not worth. Do not HOLD or HODL or anything other than DROP, SELL, or DITCH your SIA.

btw, nice gravedig.

This is not a long-term hold. I plan to sell them as soon as the first bump is back. I'm pretty sure SIA and much more shit coins are going to get some of those ATH prices back, but we are not for certain when is that gonna happen. Maybe in the next 6 months, maybe in the next year.
