Please make a detailed thread with proof on what happened and how you got scammed. We cannot help you unless you provide us with more details.

?ndrew - June 11, 2017, 10:18 am

Post some proof of him scamming you for a start

Prophett - June 11, 2017, 10:19 am

You should upgrade to L33t and leave him a rep + add him to scammer database so others dont get scammed.

This dispute did not seem valid to me until I viewed the user in questions profile. It looks like he has banned himself somehow and changed his title to "sorry" which in this case is probably a "sorry for scamming". I'm extremely sorry for your loss and I wish I could compensate you for your loss but pay-day isn't due for another few weeks.

I tried to exchange $100 btc to Brusk's PayPal aswell earlier and he was acting kinda sketchy.

Luckily I didnt pull through and didn't go first.

He will be back as his ban is only temporary. Maybe he decides to resolve it later down the line, who knows.

Brusk went into army for like 2 years (not sure). Won't be surprising if he pulled off a scam before leaving.

Pronouncer - June 11, 2017, 12:06 pm

wait, to me it just looks like OP is but hurt due to conversion fees??

$110 BTC - Skrill

$110 - (5 or $10 for fast confrims) = $100 then skrills fees whatever that is?

I don't see him as the type to scam even though we don't talk anymore but I have been wrong about members like that before.

Regardless @OP if hes in the army for 2 years and not active on the site for 1 year he is gonna be closed due to inactivity.

Rikz - June 11, 2017, 4:24 pm

He clearly scammed ya, tis a pity, when people say dont trust someone just because of account age and rep people dont listen mehn, should've just paid minimalist the fees

TopKekeroni - June 12, 2017, 1:11 am

Pretty disgraceful if you tell me. One day he is a close friend, the next morning you wake up to him exit scamming and blocking you from everywhere.. nice.

I guess some people's dignity is worth $100.

I am sorry for your loss OP.

Stashyy - June 12, 2017, 1:23 am

Yeah he exit scammed

On his discord he kicked everybody that joined from hf and even blocked some of the people that spoke to him.

As kek said, $100 must mean more to people rather than real friends.
