

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Butterflies in your stomach!

10x - June 11, 2017, 2:11 pm

Have you ever put on some relaxing music that you really enjoy, and ever think about what the future stores in for you, or when you reflect in the past in your past great memories with others. It's just such a great feeling and I wonder if anyone else feels the same as me?

Maybe I am just an 18 year old who is just too nostalgic and is an old fart that worries too much.
??

Shorta - June 11, 2017, 2:36 pm

There's no memories in the city of light

Unravel - June 11, 2017, 3:31 pm

Whenever I listen to Tupac I don't get butterflies but I get goosebumps. His music just touches me like none other. It's really passionate and meaningful to me.

10x - June 11, 2017, 5:13 pm

(Jun 11, 2017 02:36 PM)Shorta Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) There's no memories in the city of light Nice quote I guess but I don't really get it haha

(Jun 11, 2017 03:31 PM)Replicable Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Whenever I listen to Tupac I don't get butterflies but I get goosebumps. His music just touches me like none other. It's really passionate and meaningful to me. Yeah bro, for me it's the same with NAS

Dotexe - June 11, 2017, 6:41 pm

I'm always getting "butterflies" in my stomach when I think of a girl that I cannot have :/ but it's not from that kind of "good butterflies"

boingboing24 - June 11, 2017, 8:29 pm

I normally associate butterflies with girls that I have feelings for. But I get goosebumps or my face flushes if listening to good music that speaks out to me

Kyrus - June 11, 2017, 8:31 pm

I get butterflies when people smile at me

nicksaban1 - June 11, 2017, 8:36 pm

I love listening to music, and may get chills every once in a while, but never butterflies.

CertifiedNerd - June 11, 2017, 8:41 pm

I can't really say what triggers the butterflies, I can't say I have anything exact in my mind. But idk if it's just me but have you ever gotten embarrassed for someone else & had to look away? like let's say during a movie.. watching the actor do something extremely embarrassing & just getting flustered for him and turning off the movie or looking away to avoid watching the moment.. I might just be weird but sometimes I turn the movie off and have to recuperate and watch it .. LMAOO I might just be a tad weird .. but eh fuck it

10x - June 12, 2017, 6:52 pm

(Jun 11, 2017 06:41 PM)Dotexe1 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'm always getting "butterflies" in my stomach when I think of a girl that i cannot have :/ but its not from that kind of "good butterflies"

(Jun 11, 2017 08:29 PM)boingboing24 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I normally associate butterflies with girls that I have feelings for. But I get goosebumps or my face flushes if listening to good music that speaks out to me LOL, I get what you guys mean.

(Jun 11, 2017 08:31 PM)Kyrus Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I get butterflies when people smile at me
Same haha

(Jun 11, 2017 08:36 PM)h@x0r Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I love listening to music, and may get chills every once in a while, but never butterflies.

I guess chills, is a nice way of explaining it but to me it seems like half and half.

(Jun 11, 2017 08:41 PM)CertfiedNerd Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I can't really say what triggers the butterflies, I can't say I have anything exact in my mind. But idk if it's just me but have you ever gotten embarrassed for someone else & had to look away? like lets say during a movie.. watching the actor do something extremely embarrassing & Just getting flustered for him and turning off the movie or looking away to avoid watching the moment.. I might just be weird but sometimes I turn the movie off and have to recuperate and watch it .. LMAOO I might just be a tad weird .. but ehh fuck it
Lol nah fam, I get what you are saying broski haha

Frighday - June 12, 2017, 8:13 pm

Happens to me when i listen to one republic

Happens to me when i listen to one republic