Thread: [Alternate Perspective \[Photomanip\]](#)

Saul Bass - June 12, 2017, 2:34 pm

Not done a manip in years and most of the old timers here know I pumped out photo manipulations then lol

So here we go.

I've dizziness ?

Joking,nice work ! :)

NightForce - June 12, 2017, 2:40 pm

Pretty good reminds me of the endless stairs for some reason. Nice one Jim!

im sorry but what is the guy looking at a mirror?

an alternate fucking universe?

hes not even look at the picture hes looking at from the other perspective am I missing something?

Ryuuji Takasu - June 14, 2017, 12:33 am

Soo its the image flipped and masked out and rotated or is it mirrored.

Its confusing too look at which makes it a nice Photomanip instantly.

The lines/edges where they cross are also very well done.

Bonesma - June 14, 2017, 1:03 am

Nice idea and well executed good stuff

Exactly..

I wanted to try a manipulation that didn't have multiple stock images. This manipulation only uses one stock image and I wanted to manipulate the piece in a way to confuse the audience a little lol.

Wow that's really nice. I have worked with photo editing for a long time, photo correction, restoration etc, but I've never played around with photo manipulation. Really nice results.

How long have you been playing around with photo manipulation?

It's photo manipulation, it doesn't have to make sense

Sometimes a reaction like yours is exactly what the artist is after.
