Thread: [1st RIG RX580 \[ETH 178 MH/s + SIA 3200Mh/s\] - 2700\$](#)

xf0xalz - June 15, 2017, 4:25 pm

I have done this miner all by myself. I didn't have any past experience.
If you have any advice/tips let me know ! ?

Specs (2400€/2700$):

- 6x RX 580 MSI GAMING 8 GB = 29.50 MH (After OC + Mod bios)
- ASRock Z97 Extreme 4 USB 3.1 skt 1150
- Intel Celeron G1840 Processor
- Kingston HyperX Fury 4GB 1333MHz DDR3 CL9 DIMM
- SSD 120 GB
- Kolink Continuum 1200W 80+ Platinum
- 6x USB Riser
- I build the RIG myself.

Some pics of it (Big Image):

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

I can get around 178Mh/s on ETH and 3200Mh/s on SIA coin (Claymore Dual Mine 9.5 after OC + Mod bios).

Im using around 920W/h (That's like +/- 130$/Month).

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

You can check my miner progress here:

ETH - Check the status here! (Im planning to hold the ETH for long)

SIA - Check the status here!

If you have any question , let me know ! I will try to help you the best way I can ! ?

How much are you making per day with this where did u buy the GPUs

It depends on the price of the coin , but I would say around 40$ day (ETH + SIA) ?

Local shop , a bit expensive 315€ each.

For ETH ? Until it will turn in PoS .

After that ? Until there are coins to mine it should be profitable ! ?

IPIKIN - June 15, 2017, 5:11 pm

After ETH goes to PoS, there will still be a plethora of other coins to mine. www.whattomine.com.
Even now some days there are better coins to mine than ETH.

Mr. Robot - June 15, 2017, 5:22 pm

Boys idk why i didn't setup a rig fucking YEARS ago..

What scares me now days what if majority of these coins turn off mining? There are alot of better ways to obtain coins then mining these days.

That scares me a bit, with that being said i think im going to setup a rig pretty shortly.

That's not correct , my MH it's 178 MH/s but that's not really what you get from the network. I get around 170 MH/s , power it's 925W / h and price it's 0.20$ Kwa .

ETH will be PoS in a few months so you won't be able to mine this coin . You can always start to mine another coin but keep in mind that might be not profitable as ETH !

This card it's pretty nice but they are almost out of stock in everywhere ... You might have to go with Nvidia ?

they said 1 obelisk = 100 GPU and at month they can earn

ESTIMATED HASHRATE: 100 GH/s
NETWORK HASHRATE: 1,000,000 GH/s
BLOCK REWARD: 20M SC/DAY
MONTHLY REVENUE: 60,000 SC

if you will minning only SC on full power what result you can do on your RIG

Im 100% sure that siacoin hashrate does drop and eth hashrate stays the same with any other coins.

For example, I have tried to mine SC only on my rig and I was getting around 8900mhs with 7gpu's but with dual mining eth + siacoin im getting around 3500mhs.

So once again im a 100% sure it does drop the hashrate of siacoin but for eth it stays the same.

Nice rig, should consider to reinvest profit into another one :)

I agree 100% - dual mining eth and sia I was getting 14mh/s and 450 mh/s and when running just sia I got 900mh/s

I just copy the 1750 memory value into the 2000 with PolarisBioEditor !

You can find alot of tutorials on youtube "How to bios mod RX580"

NOTE : YOU SHOULD MAKE A BACKUP OF YOUR GPU BIOS BEFORE YOU CHANGE ANYTHING !

i have 0 power cost so it's about 16$/day worth of ETH and like 2$/day worth of SIA, around 18$ ROI Is high don't think that it's really good to invest on this, is there a possibility that there will be something that gives as much profit as the amount you used to make 2 months ago with ETH in the next few months? Or like even less but more than this 13$/day shitty payment because it's like 400$/month which would take me 6 months to get my rig's money back which is alot of time for 0 dollars

It's sad, but selfmining isn't really profitable in most chases anymore. You really need to have HQ equipment and money to invest into hardware upgrades all the time, otherwise you won't be able to keep up with the increasing mining difficulties.

And botnet mining isn't that much of a "safe" alternative. Even though you can probably make some money with it there are simply too many uncontrollable variables involved + i think it's not worth risking your freedom for such small profits.

Best regards,

Vox

Well,I can see that i can get my roi in 5 months with no problem even if eth mining dies out because XMR mining with same equipments gets about 17$/day which is kind of okay, but as i'm thinking of starting, will there be a coin that will get the same money with the old rates? or is it just not realistic?

Edit:

An antminer d3 will make about 200$/day with current rates and it costs about 2k for the whole setup and the roi is expected in like 2weeks, i know the rates will go down since people bought around 20000+ antminers but the question is how much will it take for the dash to become dead to mine? and how much time for the 200$/day to drop for 30$? is there an estimate?

Money Man - August 28, 2017, 9:24 am mining will pay it self off and after you hit ROI it's straight profit.

more machines the easier it is to hit ROI and profit.

I have one rig I've been running for two weeks and my partner is already ready to expand to 15-20 rigs.

"more machines the easier it is to hit ROI and profit"

That's simply not true.

If you are mining $100 a day and your rig costs $1,000

You are mining 10%

If you are mining $1,000 a day and your rig costs $10,000 you are still mining 10%

you truly are fucking stupid arent ya

this machine is running right now. lets put two together, if he adds another machine than hes going to hit ROI quicker on both machines and have more profit at the end.

have you heard of reinvesting profits? Sorry that you cant with all the bots you use to mine with

Not much to say ... Atm I have 8 RX 580 running. You can check here :

I spend 0€ on electricity because the miner is on my friend company and he doesn't charge me anything for it.

Even if it's low , still profit
