Thread: upgrade and posting to marketplace question

ittshaless - June 16, 2017, 5:00 pm

This might be a dumb question idk but if I upgrade to L33t do I still have to wait until I get 1 positive rep point to post to marketplace??

Any help is appreciated

Yes you do. Also do you have a skype man

M?xim - June 16, 2017, 5:04 pm

That is correct. Even a UB3R who doesn't have at least one positive rep in total can't post in the marketplace.

Good luck. Remember to read the Help Docs about the Reputation System.

No, I am not wrong. You can be a uber with 0 rep, with -9001 rep, with 9000 rep.

It is possible if you get accepted and then if you do something stupid and end up repkilled.

Technically you can but he isn't a wrong. Obviously the chances are Low of that happening but he's just saying you have to have positive rep.

A quick peek at your posts tells me differently.

Doesn't make you low quality for being wrong once. Not at all.

Good luck.

Okay thank you and I am sorry I will read the help doc more closely I just am really confused as to how everything works being new. ?I made an account because I really need help with something but then I learned I have to post it to the marketplace and I can't do that until I have a rep point which I don't entirely know how to receive and I guess I am just really desperate for some help haha ? I appreciate you answering my stupid question though lol.

Ub3r isn't a negative reputation shield. Please do use your brain and think before posting.

Yes. L33t will remove prestige restrictions that we have in certain sections.

You can't get accepted for ub3r with 0 rep. You can be ub3r with 0 or negative rep. People get repkilled, it happens. ?
