Getting into GFX. It's my 5th thread design. Done a lot of things besides it but never really did any thread designs. Need some feedback!

Very nice design ScreemS made for me. I appreciate the quick and professional help.

I'm not too big on GFX, but in my eyes everything is alright. Hopefully someone can give a more constructive feedback/criticism towards this design he made me today.

The first S in stats isn't completely blue, neither is the Q in Questing.

Also, to be grammatically correct, it'd be Discord and not discord, considering it's a program, it's a noun? (or pronoun), therefore capitalising the first letter.

Apologies if I'm coming off as a dick, just pointing out what I saw was wrong or what could be improved upon.

Thank you :)

Fixed what I could and then my Photoshop randomly expired. F*CK.

It looks more appealing when you split it up into sections instead of one solid background.

I don't think hightlightning the word Kid is a good idea, you will come off as unprofessional, and,well, a kid, so I suggest using other wording.

Maybe something like "I have played the game since 2xxx" or something like that

Also second and 4rth lines of TOS sound bad and too simular, write something like " It may take up to 2 or 3 additional hours to complite the task"

The text that is on the thread is what the customer requested.

^ This is my only problem with the design.

Using borders, colour schemes and different backgrounds (that all hold the same theme) will make your designs look way better.

Aside from that, it's a nice piece. Keep it up OP. ?
