Thread: [5,000 posts! \[Feedback\] <3 6+ Years!](#)

Hey HF,

Well, I finally hit my milestone of 5,000 post count! I would like to take the time to just do a little feedback (I don't see the proper section, so I that's why I posted it here).

What do I think of the overall forum?

I think overall the forum is very good, it's very well moderated, and for the most part, the sections are very well maintained. It's been so much fun being a part of this forum! I've met some really cool people and have even made a TON of friends over HackForums.

What's my favorite section?

I am an addict when it comes to the Runescape section, I actually have almost 3,000 posts in just that section. I have been avidly playing the game for about eight years solid. Did I ever think I would have all my posts there? Lol, never. I used to hate the Runescape section.

Lastly, why did I come to HackForums?

I think this can be easily answered by most of us, I came here for well, hacking. I initially realized that I will never be a L33T h4x0r, so I decided to quit that (not that I was ever good at it) and move on to the gaming aspects of the forum, which now I am in love with. I've been active in the gaming sections for the past years I have been on this forum.

Thanks for taking the time to read my little feedback, I know it's not the best, but here's to another 5K posts and expect a great feedback at 10K posts!

Thank you very much,
Mike

Read your thread when you goofed up and posted in the wrong section.

Was a nice read. ?

Here's to another 5k.

Congratulations!

5,000 posts is quite a-lot of posts. I'm only at 200 myself.

Hopefully, I'll reach 5,000 posts as well. This forum is filled with great knowledge, and great people!

Hopefully you'll be around when I reach 5,000 posts!

Best of Regards,
Delph
