RegardsI'm the coder, I don't really insist on getting involved in other forums, that's all, I'm more of the type of guy that gets help on that kind of thing, I won't have enough time for everything (Not just online/coding), Prove that? Eh, that'd be quite a challenge to someone who doesn't want to disclose his code, won't it be?

I've had around 60 beta testers, that tested the cheat for 6 months from Day 1 Of development until now, and I think it's going on pretty well, why 6 months? I was learning the whole game to be precise, the real coding, 2/3 months, if you don't code 24/7 ofc, and just couple of hours a day including that you know the game already (entirely, not just gameplay).

Leagues support? To be honest, none of us have tested that yet, I haven't really researched or tried to get myself in leagues, but we'll find out sooner or later indeed. I won't be probably replying since my dear friend is going to be dealing with this, he'll just contact me if somebody did ask something, so I can give a proper response, I'm not looking into hate/trash-talk/scamming or anything, that's why I'm not much involved into that kind of area, just regular coding and game hacking.

There's been too many pop up p2cs recently doing the same thing, therefore we are presuming things.

- > Coder who isn't on HF teams up with someone on HF

Just from experience I see these call out and then shut down. I completely understand, loyalty is earned the hard way, that is the very right way to do it indeed, what I've mentioned in my community, I don't want to copy/paste it all out here, or to repeat it, but here's a quick view of what I've said regarding this.

I didn't think it matters that much with who I team up, I mean he proposed to me clearly that he can help me with the community, and I've known him from other game cheating community, so I gave it a shot. My background was mostly in another's game Scripting Platform as I was developer there, but it had to shutdown, because of laws issues. Not gonna go in-depth on that, I wouldn't start this project if I was still there, as I loved that job over there and I was passionate about it. So I tried to recreate the very same thing that other platform had in mind, which was subscription and cheat for the selected game.

Hope I was clear, I completely understand you guys, props and respect for opinions.

Kind Regards,

Xsal_Ice - July 1, 2017, 3:40 am

I hope everyone is now happy since i got the dev to write here.

We (specially MaxVelocity) put much effort and work into this project. We won't stop this in any circumstances and just "disappear" like some of you said.

We are startin a long time running service.

- I knew the coder even before I was on HF. It was NOT his idea to advertise it on hackforums. It was my idea. He is usually NOT a hackforums user. This is why he also dont wanted to write here usually.

- There can be no background ont he coder since it is his first big project. We know ourselves from another hacking community where he proven several time his coding skills. The community was also about game hacking but for a different game.

- sure it is similar to other cheats found online. it is aimbot, ESP, trigger. The usual stuff. What do you expect to get from a CS:GO hack? Should it also mine bitcoin for you during you play?

We have NOTHING to hide since this is not the usual copy-pasta shit like u see appearing and disappearing daily. There is about 6 months of work in this project.

TBH if someone with high rep and good knowledge of gamehacks want to try this and write a detailed HONEST review about our project you are free to contact me.

What should not be safe with this kind of system? Many cheat providers use registrations on their forums also for authenticating on the cheat. I dont understand your complaint. We dont need many informations just a simple forum registration to get a customer account.

And for fucking sake has it to do with the ? icon? Check my posts - i just like i so i use it often.

1. If its such a good cheat, how would one check if its truly copy pasta?
  - You cant make the source open, because then everyone else will copy pasta, but you cant keep it closed either, because then, who tf knows if it is or nah?
2. The GUI theme is very Familiar with another cheat that was recently leaked.
3. Im not sales bashing, im just really curious, because ive seen many pop-up P2c's that are either copy pasta, leaked cheats or infected.

3. Im not sales bashing, im just really curious, because ive seen many pop-up P2c's that are either copy pasta, leaked cheats or infected. Direct response to the 2. point, as my partner informed me it's required, as I said in the first posts, the GUI is MetroFramework and if someone made even the smallest research he could see that the cheat you're talking about is WPF and is using MahApps, therefore it's not exactly MetroFramework, and it's not even close to it when it comes down to functionality.

I hope I was clear, I can honestly say as I'm all the time honest, the thread design, we paid for it yeah, it was a steep price, and now that I've seen that the content inside it is matching someone else I really regret paying for such service. I'll get another one working and clean soon, I promise, sorry for the confusions, even I just got clarified, as I'm not into designs and such, I cannot judge, but seems like people here know, so I'm glad I got notified of this.

3. I fully understand your concerns my friend. I am also always very careful when i do deals or buy anything.

I can only tell you that we are actually being reviewed by Elitepvpers. They are checking the hack for any infections, if it brings the suggested functions and if it is copy - pasta. I hope we get the approval soon so I will post it here also as a "proof".

I can swear that this cheat

New features have been added, and stability improvements have been made.

The features that were added, were: Aimbot now works with key, that one-tapping is amazing, then we've got for each weapon type, unique aimbot spot, so for rifle it might be 'Chest', for pistols it might be 'Head' and soon there's going to be another update containing FoV & Smoothness for each weapon type.

DashBoard The Dashboard is basically "misc" tab. It includes basic features like no flash, skin changer etc. You are not getting much features but the current features are enough and alright. The skin changer how ever needs to be changed though as you cannot choose a skin of your own choice now but i am sure it will change soon. All of the other features work fine and i really like the standalone rcs. If your aim is good like me but suck at controlling the spray this is the option for you.

ESP: The ESP tab has enough options. It gives you your basic needs, i don't think it misses anything important. You can customize the size of boxes or just customize them. It has more than enough features. All though adding a bomb ESP would be nice for me it's not really necessary for me.

Glow: All though i don't really use Glow much because i just like esp to make it simple the glow in this cheat is very nice. I can't say much on this as i don't like to use glow and haven't used it much but just one match.

Aimbot: Aimbot is one of the most important features of any hack. With this hack the aimbot is very strong and very well done. All though it's not that kind of cheat where you will instantly get your desired settings but once you get the hold of it, it is a very strong and legit aimbot. There are many features some of which i didn't understand but i am sure they are there for a good reason. The aimbot itself is made for legit gameplay so don't expect to wreck in HVH. You still can rage with it though.

Trigger: The Trigger is something i really love because it gave me options to enable it for different guns. I wish more hacks did this. It felt really good using the trigger in this cheat. It is very responsive and comes with good amount of features.

Ranks: All though this feature is very nice it will be better if it was like a feature which shows the ranks in game. But hey this is pretty good as well.

Settings: You can change the way your hack looks here. Which is always nice ;).

Thank you very much for your kind words!

Yes, the developer really spent some time on developing this hack. He is developing it with all his hearth and this project is like his child! Actually he worked more then 7 months at this hack. we released it after 6 months of developing time!

It's pretty great, but you should give credit to the actual developer too :o

It's pretty great, but you should give credit to the actual developer too :oWait wait wait, 'actual developer'? People who buy the subscription and use the cheat are using it because of the cheat features, they don't buy it for just a theme or something, 'actual developer', that's too rough to say, sounds like he actually worked on the cheat or something, whereas he just made a theme and posted it fully open sourced on github and other websites, where other people like me use an edited theme based on his, I don't want to talk so much about the theme as it's not equal to cheat features or improving the cheat features in anyway, infact using a theme like this only causes slower performance, for ex: try dragging the Win Form using this theme, around the screen and take a look at what the CPU Usage goes to, and then try to do it without a theme xD - But yeah, should sacrifice some performance in order to be more beautiful and not just a simple application.

Thanks for the good comment tho Justin <3
