Vouch for my boi Renevence. He's made a few thread designs and signatures in the past. Always high-quality work!

Denzarou - June 30, 2017, 1:01 pm

Updated sales thread with a new design! Will be adding more in the to make everything more user friendly very soon.

Up for orders!

Pm'ed you. I need graphics for the hub done soon and I want to see if you can do that!

NightForce - June 30, 2017, 4:24 pm

Can't wait to see your portfolio, might consider purchasing a signature for myself. Best of luck with the sales Renevence!

Do you really have 7 years of experience? Or are you counting from when you began using Photoshop/Illu?

Weird that from seven years you would not have a single piece of previous work to show.

(Jul 4, 2017 07:32 AM)Renevence Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I haven't been working freelance for 7 years, although I have been designing for that long. The main thing is that most of my designs were for friends / family or just people in my town. Not looking to disclose that information because I'd prefer to keep my online / offline lives separated.

More work will be coming out to show relatively soon.

It's perfectly fine that you want to keep your online/offline lives separated, but claiming that you have seven years of experience, and yet, not having a single preview of your work is just ridiculous.

Take your layout for example(your latest, and obviously your only design). There's just so much going on.

Logo for a start. I can't believe that someone with seven years of experience would make something like that. Symbol and the text are in two different styles, ay, typography doesn't match the logo(symbol) at all. Besides that, icons. Some pointy, some curved, some big, some small. Or take pricing part, where you have different spacing and also parts where you didn't center prices properly. Squares, rectangular, rounded rectangularagain, there's just so much going on that it all looks random.

Don't get me wrong, I'm not saying that it looks bad, it's just that it looks "basic", and that is full of small mistakes that are usually done by newbies.

Someone with seven years of experience would know much more about hierarchy, spacing, alignment, and other stuff.

I truly want you the best of luck with sales, but if you are going to claim that you have seven years of experience, at least try to back up those claims.

Vouch for Renevence, just had graphics done by this user, just what I wanted and he was very professional. Will come to you again soon if I need anymore graphics
