Thread: The Mafia | Official Group Sector | Recruitment #1

Elitas - June 27, 2017, 2:06 pm

The Mafia is a loyal, trustworthy and honest group which operate together to make money.

Welcome To The Mafia

We're not blackhat - We're just not nice people.

This is a sector of Revolution which will be launched soon. We are beginning recruitment for this sector today. It is a password-protected sector of the group, separate from the rest of the group.

Welcome to our subforum. We are looking for intelligent users who are interested in joining an active sector who are interesting in making money. This will require a skillset. Although we do bias towards certain skillsets (which I'm not going to point out for obvious reasons), we would like to see what you are skilled in as we are open to all skills! Watching Anime is not a skill! I hate Anime with a passion!

This is the userbar.

At the moment, The Mafia is going to be about a few things. We're looking to see what skills members of Hack Forums have. We'll be looking for members to actively contribute to the subforum with tutorials and guides about hacking, money making, etc. We'll be hosting an active lounge. We're hoping members can contribute to the lounge and help make The Mafia awesome.

Requirements

- You must be actively visiting Hack Forums.
- You must be a positive contributor to the forums.
- You must be skilled in something and willing to share your skills.
- You must be happy to follow the rules for both The Mafia and the entire group 'Revolution'.

Application Code [b][color=ffffff]1. Please name your primary and secondary skillsets which you plan to bring to The Mafia:[/color][/b]YOUR TEXT HERE

[b]2. [color=ffffff]On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum:[/color][/b]YOUR TEXT HERE

[b]3. [color=ffffff]Including references to your skillset and time invested from part 1 and 2 above is optional but would be recommended (posts, screenshots, portfolios, etc):[/color][/b]YOUR TEXT HERE

[b]4. [color=ffffff]Please tell me any plans you have for The Mafia and what direction you think the 'gang' should go in (having good ideas which will improve the quality of the subforum will be helpful in getting accepted):[/color][/b]YOUR TEXT HERE

The group will be launching soon. I won't be accepting any applications until the group has officially launched. If you have any questions, recommendations or any wiseguy mafioso type things you wish to discuss, you can private message me and I will get back to you.

I may be biased towards users who have sexy applications and users who are positive contributors to the forum. However, this recruitment is open to anyone who is willing to share and learn!

James Burnham - June 27, 2017, 3:13 pm

1. Please name your primary and secondary skillsets which you plan to bring to The Mafia: I have a wide variety of skills. I do not know what the other members may need so I don't know how and if I will be able to help. If you review my profile you will get an idea of what skills I have. Generally I can help with graphics and writing articles. I do not know what money making methods interest the Mafia members so I am not sure if I can help with that.

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum: I will be contributing to threads of people asking for help. I do not like small talk so probably I won't post anything in lounge threads.

3. Including references to your skillset and time invested from part 1 and 2 above is optional but would be recommended (posts, screenshots, portfolios, etc): Please check some of my threads:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5584477>

4. Please tell me any plans you have for The Mafia and what direction you think the 'gang' should go in (having good ideas which will improve the quality of the subforum will be helpful in getting accepted): I think the members should be hand-picked. Most people that apply to groups are active members so reviewing profiles can tell more about them than a simple application. I 'd like to see a group of partners. I had several partnerships that were formed on skype groups and they were very profitable. Thing is, these groups were niche oriented and not generic. So maybe making the group as niche-oriented as possible will be good.

Iv never been a part of any group but i cant help the fact i like the name, idea... and dislike the anime. Seems like a high quality group .. wonder what comes out of it.. don't think I want to list my skill set publicly but might make an informal application at some point. Good luck to everyone applying.

First good Userbar here in a while!

Denzarou - June 27, 2017, 3:40 pm

1. Please name your primary and secondary skillsets which you plan to bring to The Mafia.

My primary skill set is graphic design. I've been self learning graphic design for around seven years, and with that said, have learned numerous different techniques and skills from it. I specialize in infographics (thread designs / signatures), but work with a various amount of other types of design. Out of many of the other graphic designers I would say that I am the most active. I'm not out there for the money, I'm out there for the passion. I put quality over quantity, and would much rather finish one request with quality, rather than 10 just half-assed. In everything I do, 110% is given from me. And that's not just in terms with Graphic Design.

As for a secondary skillset, I would say being a good Whitehat helper. I've dealt with RATs, keyloggers, and various other types of malware before. I have both used them legally, and illegally. Rather than infect others with a simple malware program, I have since been helping users remove malware off their computers. Cyber Security is my field of choice, and therefore I wish to do my best in anything regarding it.

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum?

On an average day, I wouldn't mind spending at least 2 hours on the subforum. I have not been very active on HF the past couple of months, and I'd like to change that. I also post relatively often, and therefore as long as there are others posting with me, I would more than likely be making a substantial amount of posts on the subforum daily.

3. Including references to your skillset and time invested from part 1 and 2 above is optional but would be recommended (posts, screenshots, portfolios, etc).

In regards to Graphic Design, most of my portfolio dealt with personal work for my local community and friends, and I like to keep my online and personal lives separate. Therefore, I do not have a full portfolio at the moment. Although I do not have any direct links to any work, I just opened my graphics shop today, and you can check that out here:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5656877>.

In regards to Cyber Security, I have worked to help users locate rootkits within their systems, and remove them. I have also worked with several different RATs including LuminosityLink, Nanocore, Babylon, etc.

4. Please tell me any plans you have for The Mafia and what direction you think the 'gang' should go in. Having good ideas which will improve the quality of the subforum will be helpful in getting accepted.

I believe that the "gang's" direction should be put as a place that can be for anyone. Because... Well "gang's" typically have people that have different skill sets. I've lived with people who have been a part of gang's in the past, and everyone has a different role. Invite members with different skill sets, and keep a limit of how many people per skill set. That is what I believe the way to go is for the "gang."

Generally, group owners make it so that HF rules apply in a sub-forum as well. But they can often make exceptions for exceptional skills. Correct me if I am wrong Elitas or Vyrez.

1. Please name your primary and secondary skillsets which you plan to bring to The Mafia: I'm currently involved in a few different ventures right now and can really get behind the ideology of this group, I've got a particular set of skills including hacking in a traditional sense of exploiting websites, reverse engineering, CPA, coding (C/C++, VB.NET/C#, ASM, Delphi, PHP and am currently learning Python to mess around with my raspberry pi) I've got my bachelors in computer science with a specialty in cyber security and am currently working in the industry.

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum: I'm almost embarrassed to admit how much time I spend on HF, I'm never far away be it in on my phone or my computer, if I had to say without including sleep I'd say about 60% of my day or about 8-10 hours on and off throughout the day. I'd be more than happy to contribute that time to the subforum, because like I said this is really an ideology I can get behind and I can see this blossoming into something great.

3. Including references to your skillset and time invested from part 1 and 2 above is optional but would be recommended (posts, screenshots, portfolios, etc): Feel free to look through my posts or private message me for further details, I'd rather not display these publicly.

4. Please tell me any plans you have for The Mafia and what direction you think the 'gang' should go in (having good ideas which will improve the quality of the subforum will be helpful in getting accepted): I've never personally been part of a group on HF, but I'd like to see this as more of a family. I thoroughly enjoy the idea of this being "The Mafia" and I'd like to see the group make money by any means necessary and that's something I'm particularly good at. I'd like to see some group projects and would love to make my first group noteworthy and make a name for myself and the group. I'm usually more of a lone wolf where I don't keep friends for long, but I can see me making some lifelong bonds if I am accepted to this group since I am willing to give it my all.

Wolf Tamer - June 27, 2017, 10:28 pm

My grandfather was in the mafia. I don't know too many details but he was pretty high up. Long story short he paid for my education and has helped me out a lot in times I needed it most.

Just wanted to share and good luck with the group!

Still looking to see what unique skills people have in Hack Forums before accepting anyone! :))

James Burnham - June 28, 2017, 4:16 am

What skills are you looking for? People that make a living online are skilled in a variety of things. Once a person gets experienced enough, he doesn't even consider some of the things he does while working as "skills" anymore.

I wanna see the general skills.

I suppose hacking, graphics, coding, marketing, trading, etc are all skills. I'll see which ones are interesting and then handpick a few users.

1. Please name your primary and secondary skillsets which you plan to bring to The Mafia:I'd rather take it in personal, pm me for any of my contact information.

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum: Depends, i won't be making threads like a retard. If i have something valuable to say i'll say it.

3. Including references to your skillset and time invested from part 1 and 2 above is optional but would be recommended (posts, screenshots, portfolios, etc):As said, rather send to you in personal.

4. Please tell me any plans you have for The Mafia and what direction you think the 'gang' should go in (having good ideas which will improve the quality of the subforum will be helpful in getting accepted):Separated community from the rest where we can share ideas, news and opinions regarding our common things.

I am a Computer Science: Cyber Security Major, So I have quite a bit of knowledge of Pen testing and various modes of Hacking. I also have a vast knowledge of Crypto Currency, and I am a meticulous researcher as well. I love teaching people new things, and I love learning new things even more. I had taken place in a few CTF's a while ago and we didn't win, but it was super fun and CTF's are fun learning experiences. Back in the day when SentryMBA was much bigger of a cracking platform, I used to make custom Configs for it. Basically "I have a very particular set of skills. Skills I have acquired over a very long career. Skills that make me a nightmare for people like you. If you let in Mafia now that'll be the end of it. I will not look for you, I will not pursue you, but if you don't, I will look for you, I will find you and I will kill you."

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum:
I would say that on average I could contribute 6 posts average a day in the subforum.

3. Including references to your skillset and time invested from part 1 and 2 above is optional but would be recommended (posts, screenshots, portfolios, etc):

I think That It would be great to see a collective sharing of Methods and Ideas that we know work rather than shitposts of crappy ebooks. It would be nice to see a community working together to build each other up into successful people. I've managed an IG and a Twitter with over 50k+ followers and I've run many successful social media marketing campaigns. Social engineering is a basic thing that most of the people on this forum know how to do but I still threw that in. So far I have social engineered Steelseries, Facelt, MCDonalds and AriZona with nice results. I'm actually looking for testers for my methods for free Steelseries and MCDonalds products.

1. Please name your primary and secondary skillsets which you plan to bring to The Mafia: Relevant skills - Smoking cigars and cash-making. I currently have about four different income streams (not including my government job that pays salary). These include various forms of investments as well as a business.

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum: I believe in quality over quantity. "Wise men speak because they have something to say, fools speak because they have to say something". I will post when I have something important to post. Forced posts are not quality posts and they generally turn into "what are you listening to" or "post your wallpaper". If you are concerned about me being inactive in the subforum, I've been on HF for eight years and I'm not going anywhere.

3. Including references to your skillset and time invested from part 1 and 2 above is optional but would be recommended (posts, screenshots, portfolios, etc):

bdawn - June 30, 2017, 8:39 pm

1. Please name your primary and secondary skillsets which you plan to bring to The Mafia:

Primary skills: I'm a college student going for a tech degree so things that I can be good at are tech related things (Specifically Networking and Security, although I have a long way to go). I can also write and give friendly advice when needed (College teaches you a thing or two...and I traveled around the country for four years). I also have experience with management (Managing servers and heading teams for different circles outside HF). I also have customer service experience and have taken courses on communication so I have interpersonal communication skills.

Secondary skills: I am pretty easy to get along for the most part. With that in mind, I'm also able to work on a team (and alone if needed). I've worked on numerous projects in the past so I have that experience. I'm also honest and open minded for the most part. If you want a real opinion, I can give it. If you want me to discuss a topic, I am open to hear suggestions and to give my ideas in return.

These are pretty much the skills that first came to my head.

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum: It varies on what needs to be done and how much time I have but I can contribute up to a few hours per day. More or less but I'm active around here pretty much everyday.

3. Including references to your skillset and time invested from part 1 and 2 above is optional but would be recommended (posts, screenshots, portfolios, etc): Kind of hard to do considering most of these skills were attained in real life...but if you have questions, I'm more than willing to do my best to answer.

4. Please tell me any plans you have for The Mafia and what direction you think the 'gang' should go in (having good ideas which will improve the quality of the subforum will be helpful in getting accepted): Something unique and more exclusive than other groups. I don't mean being on your "high horse", I mean of a group of HQ people who are apart of something more than themselves, a team, a brotherhood, a collective group of individuals who are going to do things...some rad things.

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum: As many as possible, couldn't give an exact number as it would probably be dishonest, rather be honest with the group.

3. Including references to your skillset and time invested from part 1 and 2 above is optional but would be recommended (posts, screenshots, portfolios, etc): I offer my translation service here on HF but I also offer it on Fiverr, UpWork and other sites for that extra cash flow.

1. Please name your primary and secondary skillsets which you plan to bring to The Mafia: For the past 5 years I've always discovered new businesses and money making methods, with the amount of money I make from each method getting better and better. When I was 13 I would buy Minecraft accounts for a few cents and sell them at school for $5 each, as well as buying packets of candy from the dollar store and selling it for a nice profit. Now that I'm 18, I make a enough money off eBay sales that I don't need a job. For me, making money is my favourite hobby, second to that of researching new markets and business ideas. I have a lot of experiance with eBay and have had some success in CPA, and right now I'm devoloping a Shopify store. My GFX skills haven't gone past WordArt yet but hopefully I can improve.

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum: On some days I can literally no life it when I have nothing to do and could be online for 4-5 hours, and other days maybe 1-2 hours. 4. Please tell me any plans you have for The Mafia and what direction you think the 'gang' should go in (having good ideas which will improve the quality of the subforum will be helpful in getting accepted): I've never had any motivation to make eBooks on money making methods (free of course) or share business ideas on this forum, but being in a community with ambitions to make money online and help each other with success would change that. I'm in a friend group where no one has any aspiration to become successful, so it would be refreshing for that to change. I'd like to not only share ideas but also help people with eBay issues and improve the quality of their listings. Also I'd like to see The Mafia play a part in the world of cryptocurrency, there's a good amount of money to made right now and would like to be involved in threads advising people with investments and cryptocurrency news.

Not trying to be tough. Mafia is the ideal name because it is exclusive, money making and loyal to one another.

1. Please name your primary and secondary skillsets which you plan to bring to The Mafia:

Primary Skill Set:

-I can be like god father for SEO.

Secondary Skill Set:

- Photoshop

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum:

I am nearly at the computer all day so I most likely contribute a lot.

3. Including references to your skillset and time invested from part 1 and 2 above is optional but would be recommended (posts, screenshots, portfolios, etc):

I'm currently launching a SEO campaign for <https://www.forumsupport.org> to rank on 3rd page of google which still is achievement. Can provide proof on ranking.

4. Please tell me any plans you have for The Mafia and what direction you think the 'gang' should go in (having good ideas which will improve the quality of the subforum will be helpful in getting accepted):

Nothing come to mind as of yet, but may have some in the near future.

1. Please name your primary and secondary skillsets which you plan to bring to The Mafia:

- Coding (Primarily in HTML, CSS, PHP, JavaScript, Python and Swift. Learning C++ and C#)
- Graphics and Design
- Cybersecurity
- SQL Injection
- Website Hacking
- Social Engineering
- Marketing
- Sales management

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum: I would be able to contribute an average of 15-20 posts per day.

3. Please tell me any plans you have for The Mafia and what direction you think the 'gang' should go in (having good ideas which will improve the quality of the subforum will be helpful in getting accepted): Group-based and originated projects.

1. Please name your primary and secondary skillsets which you plan to bring to The Mafia:

Website Hacking

Design & VideoMaking

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute The Mafia subforum:

A lot, I think about 10+ posts per day.

3. Including references to your skillset and time invested from part 1 and 2 above is optional but would be recommended (posts, screenshots, portfolios, etc):

I did not understand this question very well (so I apologize) since I do not speak English at all, but if my mind does not deceive me, as far as I understand, I should send an image or something that refers to one or all of the 2 Skill that I listed above? If the answer is yes I do not have much to show you, I only have some video montage on my channel.

4. Please tell me any plans you have for The Mafia and what direction you think the 'gang' should go in (having good ideas which will improve the quality of the subforum will be helpful in getting accepted):

To be honest I don't know, I never joined a group on hf so I would like to stabilize for a moment and then maybe in the future I might think of something.

1. Please name your primary and secondary skillsets which you plan to bring to The Mafia: My primary skillset is probably helping people and being knowledgeable about the rules, being friendly towards all users and making sure everyone always has a friend. My secondary skillset is money, most prominently crypto currency and market analysis.

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum: I post probably 15 times a day on average on Hackforums, I couldn't say how much I'd post in your group because I don't know how active it is, but I'd put my best foot forward in contributing.

3. Including references to your skillset and time invested from part 1 and 2 above is optional but would be recommended (posts, screenshots, portfolios, etc):

Those are some of the contributions in threads, I'm sure they are others I've made in responsive posts but I don't know where exactly. My crypto portfolio is <https://altpocket.io/user/Londonez> and I have hundreds of percents in profit on every investment.

4. Please tell me any plans you have for The Mafia and what direction you think the 'gang' should go in (having good ideas which will improve the quality of the subforum will be helpful in getting accepted): I just think that a group is only as successful as its members, having a strong, intelligent member base is key to a successful group, profit, and working together. I have a few ideas I'd rather not post publicly but can discuss privately if you'd like.

1. Please name your primary and secondary skillsets which you plan to bring to The Mafia:

When it comes to making money, I'm always ready and on it, I find exploits in large websites (By exploits I mean ways to exploit the system, not actually finding a whole that would generate $$$), caller for hire (I'll make a business call, regardless of why its needed and when, I'll harass your ex for you and call your boss for you just to tell him to go fuck himself), RAT's, scripts, and easy money is what I'm about.

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum:

Could dedicate quite a bit of time to it, since even when I work I check hf out, could help as well as share some keys and basics of my line of work.

3. Including references to your skillset and time invested from part 1 and 2 above is optional but would be recommended (posts, screenshots, portfolios,etc):

My money isnt on bitcoin so I dont have any idea how to supply proof that supports what I said, gimme a number, I'll call ;)

(Special awesome plus, I got a voice and matters of a gentleman, I've been told I should work either on a sex line or radio

4. Please tell me any plans you have for The Mafia and what direction you think the 'gang' should go in (having good ideas which will improve the quality of the subforum will be helpful in getting accepted):

I actually think at the moment, the group is heading in a great way, money making, exploiting, manipulating researching and sharing advices is great if you ask me, this group could be so much more, just think about it for a second, you go in a group and just partner up with someone who needs someone just like you, in your line of work aye? make money together share methods with the rest of the group, start major operations with multiple hf users and see how that goes.

Overall I like whats this group about, respect, order, honesty among the group and the forum overall.

Hey there, OP. I'd love to apply. Are you still accepting applications?

Elitas - July 9, 2017, 4:02 am

I have created 2 lists from the applications. 1 list have been sent a PM which if they respond to will be invited, the others may be invited in the future. I'm still open to applications but will open a buy-in thread soon to match up with the overall group recruitment scheme.

What are you trying to say hehe? That you're one of the people who's application was good, but have question marks around activity and other things. Warning levels, open scam reports, negative reputations and date joined were all considered in determining the quality of each member and also how likely they are to quit HF in the near future.

I will go back over that second list at another date when more recruits are needed and determine which users are meeting the criteria.

Nice to hear. I've been much more active lately, don't have any open scam reports, or negative reputation. My main problem at the moment is my warning level I guess, which expires in a week or so.

Hope to get in haha. Seems like a nice group to be in.

There are around 3 or 4 users who I'm not sure if they will stick around if I invited them. I also look at neutral reputations, trust scan and ub3r approval status.

Obviously I'm mainly looking for interesting individuals, my only real account requirements are there to make sure the user is going to be active and also knowledgeable about the subject they claim to be.

1. Please name your primary and secondary skillsets which you plan to bring to The Mafia: I'm a very skilled writer and have majored in English. I can write essays, reports, marketing material, analyses -- you name it -- to an objectively very high level of quality.

2. On an average day, how many posts/hours would you contribute the The Mafia subforum: I will post as much as I feel like. A post a day on average is reasonable enough to appear active but doesn't hit the threshold of 'spam'

3. Including references to your skillset and time invested from part 1 and 2 above is optional but would be recommended (posts, screenshots, portfolios, etc): My Deal Dispute threads made when I was a newbie on HF (I am still, relatively, a newbie) had gained the respect and approval of many veteran members of the community; they were impressed by it despite the fact that I was a complete newbie. I was lucky that user Riggs was kind and generous enough to sponsor me my L33T status. I've been staying here ever since.

4. Please tell me any plans you have for The Mafia and what direction you think the 'gang' should go in (having good ideas which will improve the quality of the subforum will be helpful in getting accepted): I am also a very skilled "Mafia" forum game player. I could host Mafia games in the subforum! This can boost community morale and build team spirit!

PS: Unfortunately, I am currently not very skilled in the fields of "hacking" and tech-related stuff yet. I only have a rudimentary knowledge of Python coding, C++, and basic pentesting and algorithmic knowledge. However, I will be pursuing cybersecurity in college. That, however, will be a slow process.

I would love to join the Mafia. I am generally a highly active and engaged user.
