Thread: Had no idea brass knuckles where illegal in Texas, was so close to getting arrested.

coco69 - June 28, 2017, 6:35 am yesterday, I was going 85-90 on a big wide 5 lane road with a speed limit of 55, anyways after glancing at my mirror I noticed a state trooper trying to catch up maybe a half a mile away, he was probably hiding somewhere.

Already having over 8 tickets on my record I decide to floor it as he was still very far behind and still did not have his lights on.

I was able to get some distance and take a turn on a light and floor it again, but the traffic botched up and he already had his lights and sirens when he finally caught up.

We talked a bit, he asked me why I tried to outrun him, I told him I did not, that I just simply never saw him up until when he was up on my tail.

Cop was actually nice but very serious, after a bit he asked if he could search my car and I said go ahead let me even open up the trunk for you, and after doing a quick search he found some brass knuckles with a retractable knife under the passenger seat.

I replied "I know this is the most used line, and its very cliché, but that is not mine, I actually was aware they were there for like 8 months already but someone left them there, and I never got around to doing anything about them with them"

He then told me how in Texas its a felony, he then put them in a ziplock bag.
and I knew I was fucked, im not sure why I was already going to call to get my car picked up, because I knew I was getting arrested and he was like hold on, he made a call on his phone and talked for around 2 minutes and he just told me, im just going to give you a ticket for what I clocked you at 89 on a 55

And failure to signal when doing all those lane changes cutting through traffic trying to outrun me.

He put the knuckles back in the car and said just keep those off the streets throw them away or something.

for a shorter version I basically dogged a felony that would have been a mis-understanding and was thankful the cop was nice enough to let that slide even after the bullshit I tried to do.

You got so lucky for the cop being so nice, I expected them to pull out a gun and scream 'HE'S ARMED AND DANGEROUS'

My question is, what road in Texas has five lanes with a limit of 55??? What county were you in, because I lived in Dallas, Houston, and Austin and all had limits of 70+. With that said, if you're not going 85+ in Texas, you'd end up being drove off the road by the other drivers.

Word of advice after living in Texas for most of my life, invest in a radar detector. I bought one, and never got a ticket again. It has saved my ass multiple times, points where I probably would have gotten arrested. $80 on Amazon has saved me thousands. It's damn near useless here in Tampa Bay due to slow ass tourists, however I still keep it running for those 2am, 120+ speeds.

Well not 5 lanes just a two lanes on each side, and a middle turning lane, so I call it a 5 lane even though it really is not a 5 lane.

Also have a speeding ticket from last month, 95 on a 65 its still not even online to pay it smh

Ahh, that makes more sense now. No matter what, you always got to be on the look out for state troopers as well as motorcycle cops. Both love to sit and use lasers, which a detector can't pick up fast enough. The prices of tickets don't really matter to me as I can afford it, but when they start striking your license and you're one ticket away from getting it revoked, it's tough.

This is the evidence picture of the knuckle duster with retractable knife I had in my car when I was stopped last year. Recently went through the courts for having this and a SHIT TON of weapons and drugs in my car.

I managed to wriggle my way out of the possession charges as most of the items really weren't mine. I knew they were there though.

Just went to court earlier this month. Got 100 hrs community service and 6pm-6am curfew for 3mnths. Have no idea why the judge was so lenient, some of the weapons were nasty.

Condoms - June 28, 2017, 7:26 am

One day your going get your license revoked/suspended and your car impounded.

I feel the same way I can afford to pay them but, I have a feeling this was the last ticket to get my license revoked, I havent talked to a judge or anything I always just pay the tickets, do you get a sort of warning before?

I really dont want to loose my license im sure I have a shitload of points tacked on

For this year id say with this last ticket id have around 8-12 points

Looks like over 6-8 in a year is enough to get license suspended.

MOKA - June 28, 2017, 11:12 am

Learn from your mistakes you were lucky lol.

Who Soup - June 28, 2017, 11:15 am

That was nice of the cop to do. It just shows you you have a better chance just following directions and being as transparent as you can with them.

SirAndrew - June 28, 2017, 11:17 am

If this had happened in the UK, you'd be looking at a suspended sentence or an electronic tag regardless of priors or not, so congrats on not getting a serious felony there bud!

CorrosiveBlueberry - June 28, 2017, 11:19 am

Stores can sell crazy ass weapons, specifically like in tenesse and southern states. I always frequented stores like " China Bazaar" down there they had all kinds of weapons, that are illegal in my state, such as switch blades.

Weapon laws vary by state; weapon stores sell crazy fucking shit coco69 - June 28, 2017, 2:13 pm

in all honesty, yes I was very very glad to have gotten off the hook with just a ticket, Im not sure who he called or for what reason, but like I said im just glad I dogged that one.

Candyshop - June 28, 2017, 2:25 pm

Damn bro glad you got out kinda easy. Ticket still sucks balls. I actually had something similar happen when i was like 16 i was going through TSA with a backpack on and inside my backpack i had my brass knuckles (no clue why just an old bag full of shit in my closet didn't see them at the bottom after emptying), after they took them they strip searched me and let me board. I got a notice in the mail from department of homeland security with just a warning. I was fucking scared.

BR?ND?N - June 28, 2017, 2:26 pm

What's with all these members on HF being jackasses and speeding.

You're not a bad ass for putting other's lives in danger, you're an idiot.

Charger - June 28, 2017, 2:28 pm

Quit lying to the police. You're lucky you didn't go to jail.

Tony Stark - June 28, 2017, 5:47 pm

Lol what type of laws do you guys have. If you did that same speed in Australia, you'd lose your license.

LoIAtWtf - June 28, 2017, 8:04 pm

You got lucky in Missouri "where I am from" I would've got arrested!

In the US you should.

I got clocked at 81 in a 55 and got a reckless driving charge, If I didn't take a deal I would have lost my license for 6 months.

Typically, most cops here are assholes, like I said cop clearly knew I was trying to outrun him, and I was doing so, if it wasn't for the traffic that clogged the road 2 minutes into gaining distance.

SIM-3257834 - June 30, 2017, 12:17 am

This story would have been better if the cop had a trigger happy finger. Serious note though, you drive like every other idiot in Texas. Believe me I know lived and live near Texas.

ryan? - June 30, 2017, 12:21 am

I mean you didn't have to let him search your car...

op: If you were a black male in florida you would be gone. Consider yourself lucky and learn from your mistakes.

test - June 30, 2017, 12:30 am

Not all cops are assholes. Treat them with respect, and be honest, and they will treat you with respect. This is a perfect example of that. You fucked up by trying to out run him and he probably wouldn't have searched your car otherwise. He probably thought you had drugs in your car or something. Either way I hope you learnt your lesson.

Disgusting behavior.

Sajuuk - June 30, 2017, 12:56 am

Yes, possession of brass knuckles, open knives longer than I believe 12 inches (so long as it's not a pocket knife), etc. When I was in high school, some kids that had a grudge against me and a few buddies of mine kept wrapping our trucks in plastic wrap every other day. We got sick of it one day and brought a few pair of knucks (the miniature steel ones). Word got around pretty fucking quick but by the time the principle heard about it we had already cleared it up and been out of class for a few hours. ?

Just think at under 18... being a minor charged with felony possession. You got lucky having a decent state trooper because most of the ones that have pulled me over in the past were dickheads. Especially on Beltway 8... those constables will pull you over and write you a ticket for one mile per hour over the speed limit and not give a fuck about it afterwards.

Same, i've had a few close calls on the road cause of speeders.

Either you stop driving like a fucking idiot and stop endangering others lives or you well deserve to get your license revoked. People like you don't belong on the road.
