On the 24th when these beautiful shoes restocked I was lucky enough to snag 2 pairs without a bot. These orders were made minutes after each other and I just received my first pair in the mail today. I go to track my other pair and it hasn't even shipped yet.

Anyone else having this issue? I hope they aren't going to be canceled its been more than 3 business days since the order I don't know why they haven't shipped.

Oh man this happened to me on the v2 bred release, they oversold so your order is more than likely going to be canceled. If you contact them they'll just offer a refund which is lame.

I went to queue up at the local shop with a friend, we were hoping to resell them. (Yeah, it's a bit of a dick move)

Sadly we were the first in the queue when they ran out. I was able to get them on my phone, BUT I didn't add them to the cart fast enough, and they had sold out my then...
