Im only a quarter shhhh.... but no my dad can understand like everything you would say to him but isnt completely fluent. Never cared to teach me though. Never took a class in school. Just have always been interested in learning another language, and I so happen to have several spanish friends. Dated a girl from peru as well and learned what her parents said about me pretty quickly ? never mentioned that though

Ive requested spanish classes since middle school but have always done my electives late and my mom made me quit it in middle school back when you could take high school credit courses to get ahead

I have a couple of spanish songs ranging from poppy bomba estereo to ghetto snow the product but like i dont understand 90% until I google the lyrics ?

I understand the absolute most spanish when someone speaks it like a typical white person speaking english, they say the words a little slower and dont mumble. Im making progress though

I know 4 languages but it's an English forum so there's no reason for me to use those languages lol.

Same reason why you don't see any spanish users here.

French
English
Portuguese
and can't say the other one because it would reveal too much of where I am from ?

I'm from Madagascar and the 4th language is money.

lemme sell giftcards pls - July 3, 2017, 11:07 pm

I speak a bit of Spanish, learned it in school for about 4 years, but the first 3 years were pretty much useless haha. So I speak 3 languages now, English, French and a bit of Spanish.
