UID: 3308493

Awhile ago we decided in the Consensus subforum to host weekly/monthly giveaways which would be supported with the donations of the group members. I and some other members have sent a total of ~$150 (maybe more?). I have personally sent him $15.

Proof of payment & Lookin admitting he received the donation:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

UPDATE I've asked around the Consensus members and here a few of the donations that have been made (it's not complete yet):

- 'Fox: $50 (ETH)
- Minimalist: $50
- MoneyManeFlare: $40 (ETH)
- NurSpec: $20
- Fade $20
- DenizZ: $15
- NakedTurtle $6,11 (ETH)
- Danny Khalifa: $2 Total of $203,11

There was a Bitcoin & Ethereum address which we could send money to:

BTC Address:: <https://blockchain.info/address/1PMg8Dpbqs7Cx3qbMUdt23xqEkTr5PzMj8>

ETH Adress: <https://etherscan.io/address/0x7E70d3ad284a46389a7e448B9f28016f1eEc07e7>

He made a thread asking for donations but sadly it seems to be junked (he was the group leader, probably still had the junk feature in SF). Anyway it's just gone. (look at update)

This was the contest that he branded in Consensus' name:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5652519> (A total of $85 & 3 group spot prizes)

Now that he is no longer a member he ended the contest and did not grant the prizes:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Wouldn't this be considered as a fake contest? It's the money of the members of Consensus and he should refund us so that we can continue running it.

Yesterday I sent him a PM regarding a refund, which he has read (tracked it) but didn't response to. He took a vacation ban for 1 month afterwards and none of us have gotten a refund from Lookin.

I didn't want to open this as I thought that Lookin was a really good member. I'm not doing this for my $15. It's about the morals and the general way he gone about it.

UPDATE

We have got the thread back that was junked in which he asked us for donations:
<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5650423> (only staff/consensus members can open the link since it is in the consenses SF)

This is how it looks like: Spoiler (Click to View)

It was supposed to be used for Consensus' weekly giveaways so he created a thread requesting donations. Some of us send a little bit (between $5 and $25 and maybe more) to the BTC/ETH addresses he provided. Basically the money is on his wallet. We didn't know this would happen of course.

Stellar - July 9, 2017, 8:47 am

Lookin asked me to post this for him:

Quote:Hello,

First and foremost, let me explain the situation about the giveaway wallet. The wallet was setup so neither me, Minimalist nor 'Fox had to continue dropping in money into our giveaways. I was asked a lot by our members if they could be given permission to host a giveaway in the name of Consensus, and rather us having multiple contests posted during every singular day, the giveaway wallet was setup.

Now, the amount of money that was donated to the wallet was approximately $150.00, which quickly dipped down to approximately $80.00 during the market dip. During the dip, there has been paid for the following:

Website (Consensus.fun) - one year domain = $9.95 if I recall correctly.

Hosting for Consensus.fun - one year hosting = $11-12.00 if I recall correctly.

$30.00 Ub3r upgrade.

Logo/maintenance work for Consensus.fun = approximately $10-15.00.

This totals out to: $63.95, which means out of the remaining $80.00, we currently have $16.05 to work with. If all of the members would like a percentage refund of their contribution(s), then I would be more than happy to cover with that. Just don't tell me the money went to nothing, and that I have scammed you out of it - as I haven't. I have, myself, put around $100 - $150 into work, both graphical work and various other work.

Now, regarding the contest that is/has been hosted, which is set to end July 31. It was hosted in the name of Consensus, and was actually going to be covered by the member TRADOC, whom is still a member of Consensus. Therefore, it should still be continued, considering Consensus has not been rebranded, nor has it cut out their members, only me. So please, please do continue the competition in the name of www.consensus.fun. The website will remain open, and it will not be closed down just because of my absence. At the end of the day, I loved all of the work I had done for Consensus, especially this investing simulator, and if anything is required off of the website, then do contact me privately, as I would love to help you finish up this contest. I will also happily transfer the remaining funds in our giveaway wallet over to one of the leaders -- I am not trying to be troublesome.

Regarding all of the recent outrage and drama ... I heavily regret all of the drama I was a part off, and especially how much I overreacted yesterday, this is the ONLY reason I took a vacation ban and will be gone for a while. I built a reputation for Consensus that showed a sophisticated userbase, and we had a delightful time. We really interested the community and helped them out, sadly this had to end due to unforeseen events. No hard feelings -- shit happens.

I am really sad that I have to be picked on this much for the recent issues I have had. We all make mistakes, we are all just simple people who are able to fuck up and fail. I don't know why I had to be targeted this much for a simple mistake that I have owned up to. I do regret it all, and I know all of the people who know me, and have spoken to me, know I regret it sincerely.

I am going to take a break from Hack Forums and come back when I feel fit and feel like I can calm down. I have done and said a lot of stupid things the past 76 hours, and I can't take that back regardless of how much I want to. Fox deserves nothing of what I said, and he only looked out for the best of Consensus, and I respect that. Regardless of how little I spoke to Fox, he still appreciated the work I had done for Consensus, and I know he is thankful -- sadly, I had to ruin it by being mad and overreacting.

I will see you one day again, and when I come back, I will be back with a bang. For now, I need to think things over and take care of myself. I need to get my mind straight and clear my mind out of angry, sad and annoying thoughts, as it is killing me bearing these thoughts. I took some time off work, and I am planning on getting a cancellation travel ticket tonight, and in the morning I will be leaving -- leaving all electronics behind, just .. thinking. These events have struck me at the worst possible time, as I am also dealing with things in real life that are utterly killing me, and makes me want to do shit that nobody should ever think about. Nobody needs to know about that, and it is in no way an excuse for my actions.

Thank you all for your continued support and respect for Consensus. I hope Kill Joy is able to continue the work, and continue helping the community -- enjoying it as much as I did.

I will see you soon,
Lookin.

You guys donated to a "giveaway wallet", but the funds were used on funding Consensus' purchases instead of giveaways? Were you guys aware that you were funding the group's website and other related costs? From what I've read, it seems like you guys donated with the intentions of funding a giveaway. I don't know Lookin, but I've been picking through his history since this thread popped up. He's very clearly a liar and a fairly inconsistent one at that. I wouldn't get my hopes up too much about any promises he makes.

Looking at the Ethereum wallet listed, I don't see it being possible:

<https://etherscan.io/address/0x7E70d3ad284a46389a7e448B9f28016f1eEc07e7>

Also, is that a wallet only he controls? He mentions only having $16, but the wallet has close to $80. I don't know how accurate the OP is, and whether or not that wallet does indeed belong to him.

Posting on behalf of Lookin

Quote: Sorry for all the trouble. As previously stated I will refund the remaining funds as soon as a leader messages me.

As per the current balance in the ETH wallet, that is money I put in there for future giveaways. You can have a look at the transaction histories to confirm that all the money was put into the wallet at a later point of time.

Again, I am not trying to stir anymore shit, and I am just trying to solve the issues my absence from Consensus has caused. Please, a leader, contact me as soon as possible so I can finally rest. I can't deal with these issues when I have things to take care of in my real life

Sounds like a load of horse shit to me.

People donated to him for one specific purpose, and he took the funds and used them how he liked. Now it seems very likely that he's lying about how much money remains from the initial ~$150 or so donated to him. Both the ETH wallet and the BTC wallet listed in the OP contain roughly $150, but that's "his money." So he gets to spend other people's money however he likes while he hoards away "his money" that he's apparently placed in the giveaway wallets for safe keeping.

Honestly, fuck this guy.

OnePlus6 - July 9, 2017, 10:53 am

I honestly don't give a shit about whether the funds have been spent on the group or not. He's set it up and promised to use all donations to continue doing giveaways in the name of Consensus, not to buy a domain or whatever else he apparently did use that money for.

Also Lookin, I hope you're reading this along. Please stop with the cringy 'coming back with a bang and a mission' BS. I doubt many people will remember you or even bother associating with you after your recent behaviour.

It was not told to us that the money would go to domains or whatever, it was supposed to go to giveaways ONLY. Out of the $150 he can cut $30 for the ub3r giveaway, which means Consensus should receive about ~$120, maybe more I'm not sure how much we had sent exactly.

Correct.

My speculation on this is that people sent him the ETH/BTC when it was at it's highest peak and then it dropped out almost 50%. This may be a reason. MAY. But we'll have to wait and see if he is going to refund and resolve.

If you're working in retail and you have keys to unlock the warehouse then you get fired, you're expected to give the keys back and not keep them.

Same goes for lookin, people donated to the group not to him personally, he was simply holding the funds for the group. Since he is no longer with the group he should be giving the funds back or at the very least complete the giveaways.

Why am I not surprised? He faked his earnings to scam people. Just look through his negative reputation, he claims to be friends with CEO of poloniex and random shit ? Poloniex even denied everything he claimed about them, he was saying they exchanged his coins in his behalf and CEO emails users and buys coins of them for 20% less than market bullshit.

I mean he claims he has $600,000, yet he scams people for $150 ? Even users that have $5,000 wouldn't scam for a mere $150...

OP, add this to dealdispute database, before he scams other users for thousands of dollars ->

Also, he paid for the domain/hosting-service which are both under his name? Meaning he could possibly host his own website(s) with the same funds that users paid for, whenever he wants. What a cheap way of stealing.

If your point is that its so easy to chat on discord because we are in 2017 and everyone has smartphones.. Then that should also apply to repaying funds, there is dozens of wallets on smartphones. If he is "so busy" to install a wallet on his phone and re-pay users, then he is a scammer.

All he is doing right now is buying time. His vacation ban is a good excuse for buying time.

Here is what should be done:

Every single user that paid Lookin, should post their coin addresses in this thread with the amount they sent. And we can all see if Lookin pays them back or not.

Anything other than this solution should not be acceptable. He was paid for a giveaway, not to buy domains and webhosts under his name.

The fact that he is online on discord means he is able to receive the coin addresses from anyone. So after every single user that paid Lookin post their addresses in this thread, someone send the addresses to Lookin, and he can payback without being unbanned on HF.

It's obvious that you have yet to experience a heavy event in your life that diminishes your mental capacity to handle, or even think about, situations like this thread. I hope that you never do. Either that or you have trouble seeing other members as people with offline lives.

Either way, instead of going on a witch hunt right away, let's give him a chance to make things right. If he doesn't, then that's a different story. Whether he will or not is unknown but I am willing to give him the benefit of the doubt... and no, not because he "leads groups".

What the fuck are you even talking about? How did we go from him being online on discord to him having blockchain links linked on the bans list?

And if deals were done via HF, he should repay and provide proof via HF. Literally all you have done this entire thread is flame the fuck outta him because he can't do shit back.

Simple solution:

Step 1: Wait for his ban to be lifted.

Step 2: Wait for his reply to this thread.

Step 3: Allow him the chance to refund via HF and after his issues IRL have been handled.

Step 4: Stop being a dick to people.

Step 5a: Either be happy he refunds people;

Step 5b: Rage more because he doesn't refund people. At least at this point you have a valid reason too. Rather than just jumping his ass when he can't get on to defend himself. Such a pussy thing to do.

Edit: Nice neg rep. Glad to see you just neg people when you get called out for being a dick.

I just don't know why they both gotta be immature about the shit. Alex can chill the fuck out and let Lookin return. Lookin can man up and admit what he needs too and refund people. That simple. There is literally no need for all this extra bullshit. Just because Lookin is on Discord doesn't mean he will or can refund people here on HF. I personally wouldn't have taken the vacation ban myself but its only 3 days. Let him come back and actually defend himself you know what I mean? HF has enough drama. No need to add too it.

Also figured I'd point this out....

Alex's given rep to another member.

Kinda strange he would cause more drama than that kid ever could....

Like I said. Alex is just lookin' for trouble. I believe he views his CA on Lookin as a 'spotlight' moment for himself- thus he can't refrain from bringing it up or making childish digs towards him.

Shit dude, it might be the internet but the way I look at it is simple. Just because you are behind a screen doesn't make you any better than someone else. Have respect for others. Even when you disagree. I think there are people from HF, Alex would be a good example, that gets upset when someone calls them out for being disrespectful. Put yourself in Lookin's shoes. Would you really want someone disrespecting you when you don't have the chance to defend yourself? Its not right. Either you fight the right way or don't fight at all.

I don't disagree with you, but he has handled the situation extremely poorly.

He took on a responsibility, and not only did he lie about what the money would be used for, he has now put himself into a situation where he now looks like a thief. He could have some real serious shit going on irl, but when you take on a responsibility like this, handling other people's money, you can't just purposely disappear on them without saying anything.

He knew what steps he was taking when he took them, closing his account and all. This is the backlash that he needs to deal with now for his poor decision making.

I just updated the total amount that was donated ($203,11) and we got the thread back that was junked in which he asked us for donations, I've put a screenshot of that thread in this CA.

I haven't spoken to Lookin either, but I'll give him the benefit of the doubt.

He's going to have pay back some out of pocket, in accordance to how much the market has crashed.

Your best bet at this point is wait till he is unbanned and re-bump this thread. If he still continues to ignore you open a DD.

The GRim - July 18, 2017, 6:23 am

Lookin's a known scammer outside HF. Do your search and you'll know.

I'd like to see some evidence to that claim.

hopeforme - July 18, 2017, 6:20 pm

I too bought Lookin's SE method and it's a shit method that doesn't work at all. I did everything right but it's probably patched because it was so public.

I, as well as maybe Fade, will be wanting our refunds from Lookin when he gets back.

I've PMed him on Discord but the lack of replies have not been comforting.

You don't need to scam people outside HF to be a scammer in HF. Regarding evidence, there are many in HF

As far as I know, you can refund cryptos anywhere you are. You don't need to be in your own bedroom to do that..

I'm not disagreeing, just relaying information. He hasn't been on discord as far as I'm aware and last thing he said to me was that he was disconnecting and going out of town with his gf.

Then you shouldn't have ignored us when we had sent you a PM before you were vacation banned. We can only assume you are not scamming, but we can't be sure since we only have your word. It's only $200 that you have to refund which shouldn't be hard if you made $500k with your ripple investments, right? You should give us a date, now it only looks like you are delaying us. The thread speaks for itself.

You say you will refund us 'soon' but what is exactly 'soon' to you?

hopeforme - July 24, 2017, 11:04 pm

Not a huge fan. Going to get a refund from Lookin for non-working method; otherwise will create DD if not resolved within 24 hours. No more delaying, stalling, or waiting. Too much heartbreak already.

DD thread I am going to make right now. He make me very very angry.
