Thread: [\[\$50 BUYIN\] The Mafia | Official Group](#)

Elitas - July 11, 2017, 4:55 am

The Mafia is a loyal, trustworthy and honest group which operate together to make money.

Welcome To The Mafia

We're not blackhat - We're just not nice people.

Currently we are hosting the same recruitment possibility as Revolution. There is a standard entry fee to join into the active sector. You will be given the Revolution userbar and will be expected to be active. For more information and the terms & conditions of this recruitment, please PM me. You will not be expected to participate in Revolution activities as The Mafia is separate to Revolution. You will however be expected to share your business knowledge and you can enjoy the perks of being a member of an actual mafia, yes we're an actual mafia.

Buyin Price:

If you pay with Bitcoin, the price is: $50 USD

If you pay with Paypal, the price is: $60 USD

So if you buy into Revolution with Vyrez you don't get into The Mafia?

You can wait for our next recruitment which will be a while, or pay the buyin fee.

We are completely separate. You have to be invited into both separately to be in them. Mafia members do not take part in Revolution activities, and the Mafia is password protected.

You have been PM'd.

This is a business orientated subforum.

I will only be inviting a few users through the buyin system, then the buyin price will be raised to ensure quality within the sector.

I wish you the best with your group.

We have our own password protected subforum for The Mafia. You will be able to see the Revolution subforum, but are not technically a member of Revolution so you would be encouraged to not post in their lounge.

You won't be expected to post in their activity checks, we will have our own ones in The Mafia.

So you could get access to two sub-forums instead of one, if you purchased into The Mafia, instead of Revolution, lol.

People are gonna post in the main Revolution SF just as much, if not more than The Mafia's.

Why are you being like this???

Members are encouraged, in other words prohibited, from posting in the main SF.

This doesn't mean they are completely banned though, the reason I said 'encouraged', is because we don't mind letting them off if they make a mistake. Using words like prohibited, makes members think that they'll get kicked out for making just one post. A few members have made the mistake so far and have just been told not to post there. It is a lenient rule but Vyrez does prefer they don't post in his main SF.

Contradictory how? We're a business group with a focus on cryptos. If you haven't got money then you're probably not good at business lol.

Either way, we did invite a few members for free who I deemed to be skilled, so these members who buyin are getting the luxury of soaking up the knowledge which is in our subforum.

1. Can you PM me the terms and conditions of joining the mafia? What does being active entail?
2. Can noobs like myself who aren't endowed in business relations join? I'm willing to pay the BTC price.
3. What should I expect to learn from joining this group? Will there be people interested in helping me become successful or will it lean more towards the generic help of differently phrased lines that boil down to find a demand, supply said demand, profit ??? pitch that seems to be rampant here?

This sector is separate from the rest of the group. We have extremely skilled members in here. I did go a little over budget in terms of expenses for this sector so these buyins will make up for it I hope. I'm seeing a lot of skilled members who have joined through our recruitment process and are now actively sharing their knowledge and posting business related threads. I can say that I have actually started some new business monetizing methods I never thought I would when I originally created this SF.

There are 2 more slots available at this $50 price. Then this recruitment will close. I will be kicking inactive members from this SF, you will only be given one warning. You obviously can PM me if you are going inactive for a little while.

We also have our own Mafia Hierarchy.

Godfather, Underboss, Advisor, Caporegime, Enforcer and Soldiers.

We're not a real Mafia obviously ??? Clearly the sarcasm went over your head lol.

And no, those sports are dictated by how active you are and what contributions you make.

We are organized like a mafia but we're not exactly the Gambino Crime Family.

Fortunate - July 27, 2017, 7:14 am

And what are you exactly getting in return if you buy-in?

I seriously don't know who would pay $50 btc to get in, could you elaborate?

Yeah it was just me being a little lighthearted. We are organized exactly like a mafia because I have a weird obsessions with watch mafia movies and studying mafia hierarchies but are obviously not doing anything illegal. ? Our hierarchy ranks are NOT sold, they are earned within the subforum by being a good contributor. I'm selling 2 buyins because I'd like to get some of the money I spent on this subforum back - That's it! I will be opening up another free recruitment in maybe a month when I need more members.

El_Capz - July 30, 2017, 2:00 am

Elitas - August 5, 2017, 7:56 am

I had the money, but it'd be nice to get it back? I bought the sector because I've always wanted to run a sector on the forum, a lot of people do. Luckily I had the funds to be able to take that risk and decided once I saw the rest of the group selling buyins that I would make a little bit of the cash back.

I bought the sector to run a sector.

Actuvus - August 12, 2017, 9:46 pm

This recruitment is now closed. Stay tuned for our next recruitment (#3). Coming soon! We will probably be looking for skilled members in our next recruitment with higher standards (not buyins).
