A great anime - I think. I watched it years ago and just remembered. Is it worth watching it again or are these just nostalgic memories which I'd lose if I watch it again? ?

I can't help it, I always think of Death Note when I read Zankyou no Terror. Those two have a lot in common. They both fucked up a little with the addition of a new character (Five/N).
But overall it's worth the watch :)

I hated the ending so much that it made me never want to watch it again.

I loved it and may rewatch it again in the future. Any anime that is based on intelligence is great in my opinion.

Me too. It was great, until then. Just felt so out of place.

Yeah I agree with others the anime was really good I liked the story and defo one of the best Psychological animes out there like the other posters, the ending was a bit wtf for me. doing that fireworks bomb this felt a little out of place compared to what they were doing before. sure, no one was hurt, but it definitely did not go with their terrorist theme

Try no game no life, code geass, death note and log horizon, good watch based on intelligence

For me, the motorcycle scene is one of the best scenes of any show.

I've seen it, enjoyed watching it. Just wish there were more episodes for it.
