Thread: Auto close old & inactive threads?

Avira - July 13, 2017, 4:07 am

I don't mean close all old threads, rather threads that have had no attention for years.

Speaking about ones where people like myself get triggered over a useless gravedig.

Example: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3921196>

Sorry if this has already been suggested.

and a retard maybe notify OP, like this

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3921196&pid=55162673#pid55162673>

i'd say just keep 'em there, no harm will be done

This has been suggested and denied multiple times in the past. ->

If you see someone grave digging a thread without any good reason, simply report it and let staff take care of it.

If OP is UB3R, then they can re-open the threads.

Speaking of which, why was this thread re-opened? :S

100% closed it
