This is a great website, Kill Joy. Many, myself included, could benefit from being able to see across exchanges like this.

Background is pretty slow if you're RDP'ing, but otherwise looks great. Maybe have a "static" background option or something for those that have slow machines :)

punk55 - July 19, 2017, 8:57 pm

One of the best sites I have come across when it comes to knowing rates at various exchanges. Simple design and minimalistic.

VirtualMon3y - July 21, 2017, 10:10 pm

Looks like it could be useful. Thanks for this and good luck with it.

Kill Joy - July 31, 2017, 7:18 pm

Updated the coin list! Removed all coins not featured on any exchange.

I optimized the site some more and upgraded hosts. Need some more optimization done and gotta change the particles default option. That should help a bunch. :)

Did some optimization today and upgraded hosts. Should be better, but I still have some more optimization that needs to be done.

Awesome site. So funny looking at Bitcoin being priced $2,300 on the thread meanwhile it just hit $4,300. Proves how big it'll get.

So this project is completely dead?

Certainly not. Active duty military service while trying to run things is not the easiest when i'm completely alone on it. I'll be gone for over an entire month in January-February too. After December 8th, I'll have free time till January. I'm lookin for some more help as well.
