Thread: Exposing akaVimdo \(UID=3646977\) \(Counterfeit stacks skrrt\)

SIM-2223238 - July 19, 2017, 11:54 am

I guess today is a great day to be high quality.

Exposing: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5672743>

Hello guys, It's your boy killer aggron and welcome to HF Alert (not stolen from keemstar)

And today we're going to expose this flexa hacka cracka called AkaVimdo.

<https://imgur.com/a/CSf3T>

Nibba posted this imgur album, flexin with that $$ money stacks $$$ holla at yo boy.

The first picture gives the USD serial shit, dunno what's it called but it says: LB23104201U

Quick google and you'll find this:

<https://www.springsgov.com/units/police/policeblotter.asp>

Control + F: LB23104201U

"During the week of July 12, 2017, CSPD officers responded to a counterfeit currency incident in which counterfeit new $100 bills (Serial #LB23104201U) were passed at several businesses downtown. On the front and back of this counterfeit bill were several pink stamps of Chinese symbols. The person who passed these bills was unaware that these bills were counterfeit, therefore no one was arrested."

On the second picture all bills have the same ID too, AYY LMAO.

The money isn't legitimate because it matches counterfeit ID's and it has the same ID's

The first picture and the second picture have the same ID's too, meaning there's a 1 on 100 chance of that happening assuming you picked a random bill, but in your case the chance is 100 on 100 because all ID's are the same.

There are dozens of threads in deal dispute that deserves the community attention much more than this dumb thread.

He created his account yesterday, he'll probably not be around anymore. If you want to do something useful for the community then try doing your "detective work" in deal disputes section instead.

If you like to seek attention from users, do it for something useful. That is my point. Who the fuck cares about someone that created his account less than 24 hours ago? We all know its a multi, and many of the threads in bragging rights are fake, that is pretty known fact. If you wanted to flex your "detective" skills, then maybe you should expose his other account with evidence, this way it would be a useful thread at least

And regarding reputation, I negged you before by days/weeks. So clearly I don't care about your neg on me. Being the "detective" you are I thought you'd be smarter than that.

His thread is open = <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5672743>

It would have been more than enough to post all your fancy detective work there in his own thread. Why post it in marketplace discussion? This has absolutely nothing to do with any marketplace & any deals. And there is also no "Alert" for the community, either. I mean what are you warning the users with? No, the money is counterfeit but it came straight from a bank. We could argue back and fourth all day long but this report that OP posted his complete bullshit and never happened. I can't believe people on here can be fooled so easily.

Very good counterfeit money can actually pass in some banks so to say otherwise is ignorant. Obviously he got a hold of some of this since he withdrew so much money from the bank at one time. I mean you don't have to believe me but it's the honest truth 100%.

And no, none of the purchases were by vimdo so this just proves further that this case is bullshit. It's sad to see members getting bashed without proper evidence that it didn't come from a bank and isn't legitimate. All the other dollars he has are completely different numbers and aren't counterfeit. I guarantee that 100% and I guarantee it was the banks fault.

And you hit it 3 times?

Wanna show it's legit? c'mon lay it down with all the numbers, he himself said that counterfeit can't pass ATM's why are you digging a grave you can't get out of?
First you're in denial, then in acceptance and then in denial again.

I don't get how people can argue otherwise and say it's real? Look at the police report as well. Are those defending him idiots? Or working with him?

So let me try to understand your point.. What you are trying to say is, if we see a 14 year old making a thread in bragging section about his fake money, we should make a huge community alert & giving him more attention than what he deserves? Okay noted. Yeah we should learn from non-idiot members like you.

You know what's funny? This thread has almost TWO times his posts in HF as a whole. Check how many posts he has -> <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=3646977>

Don't get me wrong, I would love to see multis get exposed, I would love to see more community alerts. But what the hell is this thread?

"Hey guys a user that joined HF yesterday bought prop money from the internet and he claims its real"

^ That sums this entire thread. Does it really need 50+ posts? Does he really need/deserve all that attention?

I can't even believe a 14 year old kid that joined HF yesterday was able to create such a huge earthquake. You might think his thread was "low", but then again seeing this thread.. Thats just a new low.

Hes probably laughing at all of you for giving him this much attention, including you Mr. Non idiot. Jeez ???

Your comments are becoming more retarded and retarded every time something comes out of you. Before you know he's bragging even more and users go to HIM for ADVICE on how to earn and he gives them some bullshit method for $19,99

Your comments are becoming more retarded and retarded every time something comes out of you. How are you humiliating someone that is offline smartass? He hasn't logged on for the past 2 hours. You are humiliating yourself dummy. You are still talking about him while he is living his own life.

You can imagine how stupid you look now

How am I humiliating myself in any way? We're not talking about him now I'm responding to your messages, do you feel good talking trash to me?

I am sure you feel the same humiliation when people called out for your fake claims.

LOL

Welcome to HackForums in 2017..

I wouldn't be surprised if Omni puts this forum on sale soon. HF is not the same anymore

A user makes account less than 24 hours ago, and a thread with 100 posts "Exposing" his bragging thread. It feels like members have nothing better to do. RIP 2007-2014 HackForums

WOW.

just exposed the most important member in the community

minimalist - July 19, 2017, 3:04 pm

Thank you for the alert.
