Riyu - July 22, 2017, 6:34 pm

I have a question, your group is focused around Crypto currency but you accepted a user who has like 5 posts in the crypto section. Why is that?

I am interested in a crypto group. I am not interested in being told to write things for free every single week. If I am accepted great, if not that's ok too.

Other groups have very limited knowledge on the matter since it's only a subdivision whereas our group is dedicated to learning and improving our knowledge within crypto currency and blockchain technology.
