Do you have any vouch copies available for this service or any discounted ones?

Interested, but seems a little sketchy -- can you elaborate more on the method and verify why and how it'll last.

How long will this service last? I just don't see the profit being made unless you were to quit the service after 1 month and that's it.

It's $14.99 for 6 accounts on the family plan and if you sell one upgrade for $3 that's $18 for 6 Accounts.

That's like $3 profit which just isn't worth it in my opinion since you also offer the "Lifetime warranty" and if I were to go on for another month, then that's money coming out of your pocket for the family subscription. I just don't see why anyone would do this for such a low price unless there's something more to this that I am not seeing.

I have my own method in providing premium accounts for free spotify users. If it wasn't profitable of course i wouldnt be doing this.

Your account would be affected if you are added to a Family Plan twice when they both expire.
That's happen before for me but if they are truly carded then this isn't a service allowed on HF :P

This service is a pile of horse crap. I bought the service on October 1st 2017 but premium only lasted about 5 hours. So then he did it again and it lasted about 5 hours. This process repeated 4-5 times each time i had to wait about 5-8 hours for him without my ad free music which was extremely inconvenient. He now tells me that i need to make a new account even though his thread claims it works on a current account. He also refused to refund. It has been a huge disappointment and I cannot recommend this service to any Hack Forums user.

[$(5)$] - October 11, 2017, 10:59 am

This entire thread doesn't add up nor does what the OP replies to every instance of the accounts Premium going down after 4-5 hours. You might want to include that in your original post so that people are aware of it- that way you will only aim towards a specific crowd that is interested in a service they'll have to continuously be in contact with you to renew/replace.

rings551 - October 11, 2017, 11:01 am

All this is he cracks accounts with a credit card attached. And with one single button click the subscriptions gets changed to a family plan. Then after that he will connect your account to that account. If the owner sees the email that her service was upgraded they will contact support and they will cancel the family plan. That's why sometimes it lasts for a while and sometimes it lasts for a few hours/ days.

CAUTION your spotify account can be permanently banned for this.

I wouldn't want to get involved in any sort of fraud like this.

I don't card. Otherwise i wouldn't be able to provide this service on the forum.

Your account cannot get banned as the method is one of Spotify's popular feature lol.

Upgrades very rarely last only a couple of days. On average id say they last months before a re upgrade.

In addition i have 20-30 good vouches throughout thread compared to to 1 or 2 bad vouches.

It's just not possible to satisfy everyone. If the service is not for you then do not purchase it ???

Tefo. Either fix the issue or refund me before selling to others. Your thread clearly says life time guarantee and mine didn't even last 3 weeks. I will open a report at this point. Messaged you on skype, PM, and here multiple times.
