Perhaps their AntiViruses found and deleted your RAT, or you didn't make it run on startup?

I do all the things and my server is crypted any other rat with best conbnections

Just because its crypted it doesnt mean that the file will be undetected for ever.

make a new crypt one a day and upload the new file to your clients PC.

There is nothing you can do to avoid this. You file has been detected, losing clients is a common thing in ratting.

Dont forget about runtime, can be a pain in the arse. Also you need to update your clients every other day, otherwise when it detected, it's bye-bye.
