Why are you trashing my sales page? There's always chance with ecodes the main source could chargeback. That's possible with every card on HF but that doesn't make it likely

Is this sales trashing? I don't think so.

I just made a question, why are you so aggressive?

Do you refund if the account gets closed because of your AGC or if the AGC gets charge backed?

Not really getting aggressive though, I sell good cards it is the users responsibility of how it is used on their account. Closures that are not linked to my card for example fake details or other cards bought on HF are not my problem.

Danny is down-to-earth and keeps it real with all his customers. Don't hesitate to deal with him.

EDIT #1: Amazon locked my account due to "fraudulent activity" from one of the cards Danny sold me. Will update further.

EDIT #2: I've only purchased cards from one seller, and only purchased from Danny in the last few days, which is why I know which source is the issue.

EDIT #3: Still pending investigation. Waiting for an Amazon account specialist to get in touch with me.

EDIT #4: My account was finally unlocked. Danny will be refunding me the $50 card that caused the issue. Thank you.

HookEm - July 28, 2017, 5:10 pm

If you have smaller denominations of AGC (US), let me know and I'll buy.

Is this solved yet or not? ?

Allay0x3 - July 29, 2017, 7:04 am

Amazon locked my account some hours after I bought the gift card from him (and he's the only one I bought from) They emailed the reason and that's because of using the invalid gift card.

User is a moron, I have spoken to him on skype. Most likely bought other codes or got his account linked to a closed account because i have asked him to cooperate with me in contacting amazon that it was my code and not others he bough from HF or elsewhere. Refuses to cooperate and just says he has a closed email from amazon. Won't refund without the evidence like i said i offered you a refund if you contacted amazon and worked with me. But you wont do that.

If what Danny- says is true, contact support and see what code locked your account; if you're able to find that information out.

Thankyou ! I have tried explaining this i am not a bad guy if it turns out my problem then i take liability. For all i know he could use codes or have a closed account in the past which was linked causing the new one the get closed. Simple work with me and we will find out the truth

Lol! What a one sided fairy tale is this!

Here's the email from Amazon support today! Just after some hours I redeemed his gift card. (Which is the only gift card I've used on my account) truth. Bad luck today but many users have had no issues including myself :p used way over 10k

@Allay0x3 I believe you are scamming because you are kicking up this huge fuss but i only sold you a kindle gift so in theory if you were banned for invalid codes. I would be for selling it you using amazon balance? Even if not bro you had fresh account with no cc so that didnt help you. Contact amazon like i told you. Otherwise i cant do anything more for you

His friend wanted to buy 500$ cards i told him i would sell to him if he used them fast as i did not feel easy. His friend continued to ask for cards. I sold him the card on the sole agreement he would use it quickly to avoid issues. Days later he comes back telling me there is a problem and that he did not use it fast like we had agreed. Therefore i can not help him in this case. I still provide cover on those of which i sell to the HF community this is because i no longer sell 500$ cards on here.
