Tommyj122 - July 29, 2017, 11:50 am

Hey guys, on year 11 now.

I would like to share my schedule with you all. Post anything positive for me to read. Thanks!

1. Advanced placement physics 1
2. Advanced placement English composition
3. Pre-calculus with trigonometry
4. US History Honors
5. Forensic Science 3
6. P.E. (With freshman, fml)

I feel like that P.E is gonna kill you lol

Still waiting on my sophomore year schedule. PE will suck with the freshman. Juniors and seniors are the best to be around because they aren't completely retarded but are still fun to be around.

You guys take P.E. after your second year? When I was in high school you only did P.E the first two years, then you could do weight training or whatever.

Sell weed to the freshies in the lockerroom

Yeah our school is weird like that, good idea 10/10, not like they are always high for some reason ?

Don't be sad about PE man, physical education is good for you. These kids don't get that these days...They only think the only thing that makes you successful is academia. You've gotta stay healthy first.

You are right about that man, I was going to take it, but then I decided to take AP language, I don't want to die. xD

Even if it's with freshman, 6th period gym is nice. Won't smell bad until the end of the day.

It is a hard classi, for sure. But my Honors Biology class was harder. I got a 3 on the AP Exam which I was very happy about, but it was hard nonetheless.
