Thread: eWhore Subreddit + "Identity Verification"

HailFromHF - July 29, 2017, 4:57 pm

I've got an aged reddit account, will make a subreddit for "paid sexting", with "identity verification".

I'll mod it, advertise it, "promote" top-rated and "reliable" girls (for a fee) etc...

All you have to is to post on it, and also suggest it to your customers as a "go to", so that when they get tired with your girl they can find a "new" girl on the subreddit.

And on and on...

The aim is for this to be a sexting hub, where customers go to without fear of dealing with scammers.

There's lots more to be said. But the point is:

You will make more money with greater ease.

If you're interested PM me. You need to be a frequent poster on this section.

I'll add you to a discord channel.

At first I thought this would be a decent idea. Then I thought of all the little fucks who scam and will ruin it.

I had a subreddit, it is hard to moderate because there are some people that come post things like "50 [M4A] I want to pretend I am a japanese hostage, torture me" and you have to be monitoring it frequently. And there won't be enough traffic to make money of this in the beginning. You can buy reddit subscribers to rank and get traffic faster from someone, but good luck finding someone that can sell 20k reddit subscribers for a reasonable price. It's worth an effort though, if you have the time and funds to invest.

I'm a programmer, I've thought about how to automate this almost completely.

Onsite ranking won't be my primary approach.

There's a more efficient way to get traffic.

Essentially, I'll market this like a standard sext forum.

Just hosted on reddit.

That's solved by creating a complete reporting and reviewing system.

Add a 'verified' mark or something, so the buyers buy faster.
