Thread: IP2Email Link Generator - Discover a user ip address remotely prilux - July 29, 2017, 5:37 pm

Want to know the IP of someone and don't know how?

With this tool you can generate a link that you send to the user and when they click on it a email with the IP will be send to your email.

How to use?

- 1) Open the program.
- 2) Write your email, destination url and press on "Generate Link!".
- 3) After a few seconds a custom link will appear.
- 4) Copy the link and send to the user you want to know the IP.
- 5) Open your email and read the email labeled "The target IP" (Check spam folder).

Note: In some cases it sends more than one email with the IP. This is a hoster problem. Using a whois service can easily determine which IP is the real one.

Note 2: This program is free and always will be. I could have build as a "ad supported" but i didn't, so if you consider this program useful or if you would like to help with a new and legit mail server a donation will be cool.

This is just an update note:

The IP2Email has been updated, now it informs not only the IP but also the browser and operating system.
