Funtela's $100 Giveaway!

So I've been growing my YouTube channel for about a year now. I'm proud to say that I'm almost at 30k subscribers! Now it's time to start my record label up as I have 20+ artists looking to join my label. I've already gotten everything started in making it. All I need now is the name.

I wanted to name it Drop Zone, just like my channel, but I can't for two reasons. First reason being that I also have some rappers that want to join, hence the channel Rap Zone that I'm going to make soon. The other reason is that "Drop Zone Records" exists already.

I'm looking for a unique record label name. Nothing with the word records, music, sounds, etc. For example: Trap Nation's (The Nation) label is called Lowely Palace. It's nice and unique. I'm looking for something like that. I've been thinking of some names but nothing good comes to mind. This is where you guys come in! :)

Requirements To Participate

- Post what you think would be a good name for my label
- Reason for the label name you chose (optional)
- Comment & like my recent upload posted above. Comment must be related to music. No random comments!

Contest will end 08/31/2017. Unless someone gives me an idea for a good name before then.

Rules

- Please keep all posts related to the contest.
- You may post more than once. If you have more than one idea for a name, you are allowed to make a post for each.
- You must comment on the video above more than once if you are posting more than one entry.
- Include the comment that you made on the video above in your post so I can check.

Good luck to all!

Anything with Vyce in it. I was thinking you could add "Area" at the end, or anything like Studios, Labels, Records, stuff like that.

I think Vixel would be a really cool label name. Just Vixel or Vixel Records. Done with Comment, Subscribe and the like! :)

Text24 - July 30, 2017, 6:39 pm

Anything with "Beat" tends to work well for something like this:

Beat Zone
Beat Palace
Beat Kingdom
HeartBEAT

DuguWudi - July 30, 2017, 10:07 pm

Well, I'm not sure whether my suggestion would do anything.

Here goes

- 1) Beat Of Angel- this is a full name from the shortform boa, a popular singer in korea.
- 2) Beat Of Nation-deprive from beat of angel.
- 3) Nation Beat

JillianV - July 31, 2017, 5:27 am

I'm new to this forum and only discovered your channel yesterday, thanks to this giveaway.

I've listened to a few of your remixes and liked them but the remix of Heavy is something else, it's really good! I've written as much in my comment and liked the video as well.

Such an awesome remix for this fantastic song <3
I can't stop listening to this, it's addicting!

As for the label name, I think it could contain the word "reprieve". Spending time really listening to music or putting effort into making music is like a reprieve from life, problems and everything that bothers us.

An adjective could be added, something like "abstract" or "intangible" maybe?

The Reprieve
Abstract Reprieve

Intangible Reprieve

Something like that?

Good luck with your record label in any case!

Zentela.

Zen I pull from the feeling I experienced whilst watching this, it's a peaceful word & correlates well to your production skills.

Tela, is obviously to incorporate you personally as it is your project.

I think combined Zentela leaves a nice & simple name, which is still both incredibly unique & modern.

It could also be used to make references to American famous magician duo, Pen & Teller.

Comment in video; "Zentela."

Thanks for the opportunity OP.
