You need to buy a key from a store or online.

OP there are other ways to activate windows without paying a fortune (or anything at all) for a license... try google first just be careful about installing a windows activator that may contain a backdoor/virus

Hi!

If you google search KMSpico that is a windows activator and I am glad to inform you there is no backdoor! I, in fact, used it to activate my windows and have experienced no problems ever since I installed it.
